Indonesian Army Anti-Communist Program Spreads

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Radio Malaysia said Saturday the Indonesian army's anti-Communist campaign is spreading from Java, showing up in both Celebes to the east and Sumatra to the west. Prime Minister Abdul Rahman of Malaysia, harassed economically and militarily for months by its big island neighbor, suggested that Indonesian President Sukarno lose a golden opportunity if he fails to oust the communists now. "I think the tide is turning in our favor," Rahman said in a dinner speech at 1 p.m. about 100 miles north of Kuala Lumpur.

As it is answer to our prayer, the Indonesian people have realized that the real enemy of Indonesia is not Western imperialism or Malaysia, but the Communist imperialism whose plan is to dominate Southeast Asia. Broadcasts by the army-controlled radio station in Jakarta said of sightings from the abortive leftist coup last weekend: Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, defense minister and armed forces chief, has taken direct charge for the time being of Indonesia's official news agency. The army suspended the agency's operations a week ago on the ground it was infiltrated by Communists. Government forces uncovered a rebel cache of 234 rifles in the Halmah air base on Java's outskirts, where a Communist grave—previously yielded mutilated bodies of six army men.

A seventh general, Brig. Gen. Samud of the national police, was another victim of a previously undisclosed incident, radio said he was killed saving the life of Deputy Premier Jusuf Lelingsman Oct. 1. The Malaysian government said the incident was a Communist plot. The Indonesian Communist party, following the lead of Javanese demonstrators, demanded the Indonesian Communist party and its affiliates be outlawed as an aftermath of the incident.

Indonesia has given no sign of interest in turning Communist Red Tigers, whose support has welcomed.

Aquanuts to die Sunday
after 45 Days
JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The last aquanuts of Sealab 2 were to die on the surface Sunday in the 45-day underwater living experiment.

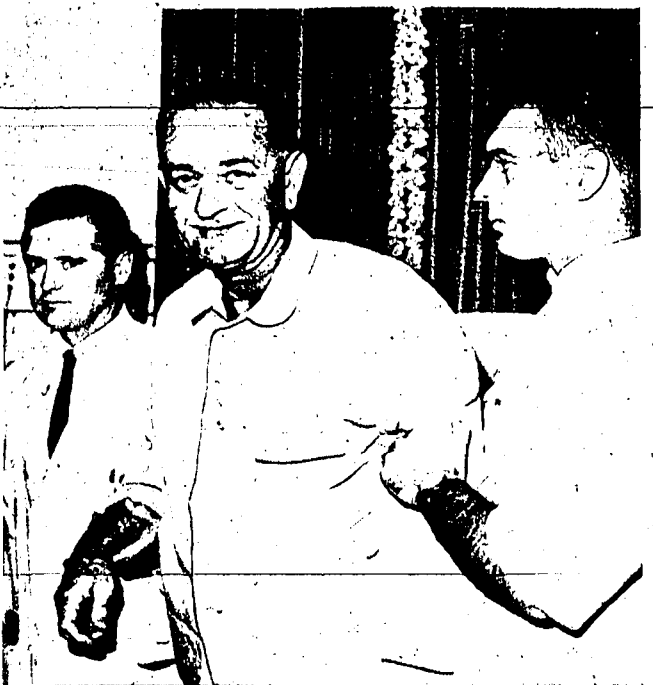

On the 10th day of the third mission to live at the 205-foot depth in the busy Saturday making preparations to leave the underwater laboratory.

After nearly 15 days on the Pacific Ocean bottom, the aquanuts will secure the Sealab 2 transfer capsule for the minute ascent to the surface.

They'll spend about 30 minutes in a decompression chamber aboard the support vessel before Sealab 2 will be hauled to the surface Wednesday and will be moved to Long Beach, Calif.

President Works on Nation's Business From Hospital Bed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson worked at the nation's business in his hospital bed Saturday, while his family doctor said the President is showing unusual recuperative powers. At the same time, Dr. George C. Cain revealed that Johnson has still another kidney stone—one that has been there for years.

He said doctors do not plan to remove it. And Cain indicated Johnson's doctors expect he will be a hard man to keep down. He said Johnson is fatigued from Friday's operation and had a minor headache, but added "that is to be expected in a man just out of surgery."

"You know the President," he said, "and to predict when he's going to get out, I don't know. We're going to keep him by main force until we feel it's safe."

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson is receiving capsule intelligence reports on the world situation, and is in shape to do whatever needs to be done.

"I assume that every decision that the President needs to take and every action the President needs to make will be done," he said.

"I'm sure he will be carrying on his usual activities, which he's doing, really, to some extent this morning," said Dr. Cain. Surgeons removed Johnson's faulty gall bladder, which contained one stone, and took another stone from a tube that leads away from the kidney in a two-hour and 15-minute operation Friday morning.

Awake before dawn Saturday, Johnson signed 13 bills, read mail and conferred with aides.

"The President is not a usual man," said Cain. "He has certainly shown, I think, unusual recuperative powers."

Before it adjourns, Congress seems certain to add to these measures for aid to higher education, highway beautification, vocational rehabilitation and a farm bill brought reasonably in line with the President's recommendations.

QUAKES RECORDED
MATSUSHIRO, Japan (UPI) — Twelve earthquakes, ranging from second to third degrees in intensity in a scale of seven, shook this area in northeastern Nagano Prefecture, 125 miles northwest of Tokyo Saturday. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

The Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes had set a certain goal of $700 to pay for the planned improvements to the strip.

Four planes were flying passengers from the airport Saturday, piloted by Gary Callen, Ross Lee and Phyllis Sullivan, all Jerome, and a pilot from Skyway, Inc., Burley.

A $500,000 aircraft display was shown to viewers at the field Saturday by Skyway, Inc.

Gabriel pointed out that the future plans of the field include a 2,000-foot extension, from 3,000 to 5,000 feet, and widening of the strip, from 40 to 50 feet.

Archie Anderson, owner of Archie's Radio and TV, Jerome, donated sound for the event.

Gary Towle, Jerome, was general chairman for the project.

Cuban Refugees Plan Mass Exodus From "Castroland"

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Thousands of Cubans are preparing to leave their homeland, beginning Sunday, but the U.S. State Department said any massive exodus probably would not start for 10 days. A barge-pod fleet of exile craft is scheduled to sail for Florida from a small fishing port on Cuba's north coast Sunday despite U.S. warnings that the trip is illegal. The State Department said Saturday it had asked the Cuban government to stop any Dunkirk-type movement of small boats across the Florida Straits until negotiations establish an orderly program.

But the port of Camarioca, designated by Fidel Castro as the exit point, is being equipped to handle a steady flow of refugees. Roads have been constructed, along with 15 dormitories, a cafeteria and a parking lot.

Sales in Miami estimate that 50,000 persons are ready to leave Cuba. But sources in Havana said the figure could run much higher, depending on how long the open door policy remains in effect and the conditions for leaving.

Florida Gov. Haydon Burns estimated the eventual number could run from 300,000 to half a million.

John H. Crimmins, coordinator of Cuban affairs, estimated it would take 10 days after the United States and Cuba agree on a program "for the movement of refugees."

He added he expected no sizable influx until negotiations are completed.

The Swiss Embassy, which handles U.S. matters in Cuba, presented the U.S. position to the Cuban government Friday "after a communications delay."

Crimmins told a news conference he did not explain the delay.

"If our position prevails, I expect the movement would begin in 10 days," said Crimmins, who flew here from Washington to make arrangements for the expected refugee influx.

Crimmins said that meanwhile Castro has been notified that the United States looks with displeasure on jumping the gun on the program.

In Havana, the Foreign Ministry said newsmen would be taken to Carica, the exit point, to see several boatloads of exiles depart Sunday for the United States, 90 miles away.

Yellowstone
Is Hit by Earthquake
WEST YELLOWSTONE Mont. (AP) — An earthquake, described by residents as the strongest since the 1959 quake which killed 28 persons, rocked the West Yellowstone area Friday afternoon but apparently caused no damage.

Harold Young, who operates the U.S. Weather Station, said the shock struck at 12:37 p.m., rattling windows and dishes.

The West Yellowstone-Helena area has been rocked by a number of light tremors since the Aug. 17, 1959 quake which killed 28 persons and buried in a huge rock slide in the Madison River Canyon downstream from Hebgen Dam.

She was chosen at a student letter party Friday night.

Her attendants are Cheryl Couch and Betty Ehlers, both of Twin Falls; Karen Stanton, Monrovia, Calif.; and Ann Reeves, Portuguese Bend, Calif.

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) — The town of Heilbronn has donated $2,825 to the American Red Cross to aid U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam, the U.S. Seventh Army announced.

India and Pakistan Tidy up Business

NEW DELHI (AP) — India and Pakistan are trying to tidy up unfinished business left over from their bloody conflict last month. As a result, soldiers are dying almost daily in the hills of Kashmir, on the dusty plains of the Punjab or in the great Indian desert. They are dying along a "cease-fire line" where fire rarely ceases. The so-called cease-fire was supposed to have gone into effect Sept. 23, ending 22 days of war. But not a single day has gone by since then without the eruption of skirmishes or what would qualify in any military handbook as a battle.

There are two primary reasons for this continuing bloodshed.

1. The cease-fire, dictated in part by pressure from the United Nations, the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain, solved none of the underlying causes for India-Pakistan friction. The cessation of hostilities is serving mainly as a pause for regrouping and reinforcing.

2. Neither Pakistan nor India was hurt badly enough in last month's fighting to shy away from another round. Each is still confident it can lick the other.

Despite the explosiveness of the situation, the United Nations is unable to move in and spike the guns because it has been left without any real power. In fact the United Nations cannot even expect to observe and report what goes on.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has made it clear he will not permit a peacekeeping force on Indian soil. This rules out any evolution of the U.N. role from one of calm to one of keeping the peace.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson is receiving capsule intelligence reports on the world situation, and is in shape to do whatever needs to be done.

"I assume that every decision that the President needs to take and every action the President needs to make will be done," he said.

"I'm sure he will be carrying on his usual activities, which he's doing, really, to some extent this morning," said Dr. Cain. Johnson May Taste Defeat On Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson seems likely to taste the pain of the sour lemon of defeat on at least one issue as Congress backs its way toward an end-of-the-month adjournment.

The President, recuperating from surgery at Bethesda Naval Hospital, apparently is in for a political setback Monday when the Senate is expected to reject a motion to limit debate on a House-passed bill to eliminate state authority to ban union shop contracts.

This action probably will create the end-of-the-month adjournment in a scale of seven, shook this area in northeastern Nagano Prefecture, 125 miles northwest of Tokyo Saturday. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

Rhodesia Would Fight For Freedom

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Ian Smith of Rhodesia said Saturday his country will soon declare independence even if it means going to war to get it.

"If anybody puts his foot in our country who has no right to, he must take what is coming his way," Smith told a news conference.

He said he did not believe, however, that the present deadlock between Britain and Rhodesia would degenerate into armed conflict between Anglo-Saxon brothers but he added: "If we have to get out of the country, we would rather go out fighting than crawling on our hands and knees."

The Commonwealth Relations Office in London promptly countered with a statement indicating Britain's resolution to end its view on Rhodesia's future with deeds.

"There should be no delusions in Rhodesia about the ability of determination of the British government to deal with the utmost firmness with any act of rebellion," the statement said.

Smith, without ever being precise, left his listeners with the feeling that a unilateral declaration of independence will be proclaimed shortly in Salisbury.

Smith's breakdown of his discussions with the British government Friday.

65 Cars Are

In "Klassic"
SUN VALLEY—Approximately 65 cars completed in the fifth annual Klassic Ketchum Sports Car event Saturday.

Checkpoints were set up at the junction of the road leading from Highway 93 to Gooding, at the baseline in Bellevue and two and one-half miles north of Hazy. Only two cars came in one of the three checkpoints without any second error.

These were Russ and Hank Bradley, Boise, driving an Alfa Romeo, and Fred and Julie Menz, Boise, driving an MG. Gary Peale, Boise, official of the Southwest Idaho Sports Car Club, said the course ran from Jerome to Sun Valley, a distance of 130 miles.

Final winners of the rally were Class P and Ray Alexander, both Ogden, Utah, with 23 seconds error and least checkpoint error, driving a Corvette, first; Mickey and Lois Williams, Boise, with 23 seconds error with a Porcari, second, and Joe and Toni Pakutka, Sun Valley.

Trophies were presented to the winners by Jerry Peale at a banquet held at the Trail Creek Club with 150 people present.

The Alpine Auto-Khana One Mile Sports Car Event will be held at noon Sunday at the foot of Dollar Mountain.

Burley Hosts 29 Valuable Racing Dogs After Truck, Trailer Overturn
BURLEY—Burley has gone to the dogs, but no one's too worried about it!

Ray M. Thorburg thought he was seeing double several times over Saturday morning when he arrived at the Burley Veterinary Hospital, which he operates, and found 29 Greyhound racing dogs housed there.

The dogs, one of which is valued at $3,000, have taken up temporary abode there after the 1964 Chevrolet pickup truck and four-wheeled 18-foot trailer in which they were riding overturned at 7 p.m. Friday three and one-half miles west of here.

None of the valuable animals was injured. They are worth approximately $25,000. Billy Wayne Williams, 22, Woodland, Fla., their trainer, was returning home from Portland where he had raced the dogs. He told Deputy Sheriff Glen Loveland, who investigated, he had pulled to the right of the road and lost control of the truck when it hit a rough spot.

The truck overturned onto the right side and the trailer, carrying 24 dogs, landed upside down. The other five dogs were inside the trailer.

Williams was not injured. He said two of the dogs were valued at $2,000 and others between $700 and $800 each. The animals were transported to Burley and will be kept at the veterinary hospital until cages in the trailer are repaired.

Harvest Ball Set Nov. 19. At Shoshone

SHOSHONE—The local high school Future Farmers of America will sponsor a harvest ball on Nov. 19.

Evan Gooch is chairman of the dance committee. The chapter sweetheart was selected but will not be announced until during the dance. A display committee will prepare advertising for the dance.

Dan Fought and Tom Race are named as co-chairmen for the newsletter, Shoshone News.

The FFA program of work will begin the first of next week, the beginning of the new six week period at school.

Members who wish to attend the dance must attend 75 percent of the chapter meetings.

Ronald Croft is the district officer and Terry Johnson is district parliamentarian.

J. W. (JIM) HENSON
... two Burley businessmen who are competing for the councilman post in ward one in the Nov. 2 city election. Henson, owner of Henson Real Estate, was the first candidate to announce his candidacy. Stoddard owns and operates Stoddard's Blacker Appliance and Furniture. Both are active in civic affairs in Burley.

KEITH STODDARD

Two Businessmen Seek Burley Council Post

BURLEY—J. W. (Jim) Henson and Keith Stoddard both have filed petitions for the councilman post in the first ward for the Nov. 2 city election.

Henson was the first candidate to announce his intention to seek a four-year term in the coming election.

Henson is the owner of Henson Real Estate, Overland Ave., Burley. He was a grocer for over 30 years and owned and managed the Burley Drive-In from 1948 to 1960. Before that he operated the Henson Food Store at Rupert.

He is past president of the Burley-Rupert R-44 Estate Board, a member of the Burley Lions Club, president of Burley Toastmasters Club and was a charter member of the Rupert Lions Club.

"My platform is for Burley's continued growth and improvement. I will do everything possible to improve the economy and develop the city for further growth of our city."

"I am for reopening the crosswalk and if elected I will support and work for the interest of the people and the city of Burley."

Keith Stoddard is owner and operator of Stoddard's Blacker Appliance and Furniture. He was born at Reshburg and attended the Idaho State College, Pocatello.

During World War II he served as dental technician in the U.S. Navy. For 13 years he was in the insurance business, which include three years as district manager for Hawaiian Insurance Group, and two years as staff manager for Prudential Insurance Co. at Nampa.

Stoddard is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and presently is serving on the board of directors for the Singing K's. He was chairman this year of the business drive for the Heart Fund. For many years he has been active in civic drives, including Boy Scouts and outdoor recreational program. He is one of the ski instructors at Ponderella Ski area.

Reasons for his seeking the city councilman post are enthusiastic belief in the future growth and prosperity of Burley and realization that business experience could be helpful, if not essential, in management of city affairs.

"I also recognize the need for a progressive, forward looking attitude tempered with deliberate and unbiassed judgment," stated Stoddard.

Henson and Stoddard are seeking the post presently held by William Morgan who is not going to file for re-election.

A four year fulltime mayor will be elected and three councilmen each a four year term. Joe Peters and J. Leonard Salmon, both former mayors, and Mack Crouch, Burley's present fulltime mayor, all have announced their candidacy for the office.

In the Second Ward J. L. Driskell is serving as councilman and Russell Ivin is serving as councilman in the Third Ward. Both posts are up for reelection.

Nude Art Is Tossed Out At Exhibit

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — A nude white and blue-striped bust of George Washington, which was tossed out of the Fresno Fair art exhibit as "unpatriotic desecration," drew the move caused consternation in Fresno art circles and drew critical telephone calls to newspapers.

The plaster bust was tossed Friday by the art exhibit judges, Mrs. Pat Chaffe, after the judges had reviewed the work as a meritorious example of art.

The bust, said Mrs. Chaffe, "desecrates the flag and the image of our country and is unpatriotic." She said she was "not a patriot" and "not a patriot."

"It was so completely unpatriotic," she said. "And the work was so beautiful, but it was so unpatriotic."

She has received "loads of criticism," she said, "people who are not allowing freedom."

The bust was done by Fresno sculptor Arnold Jensen, who said it was intended as a satire on the "sex sells" theory of advertising. It was a caricature of the use of sex to sell such things as toothpaste.

Jensen said he didn't mean to offend anybody.

Mrs. Chaffe was backed up in her rejection of the bust by the fair's president, Paul Paul. He said the bust was all right for an art gallery, but not a family fair.

Mrs. Chaffe said she believes the American flag and George Washington are too good to be wrapped around a woman's body.

"I'm a man who respects my country. I think the flag should be draped in different places other than where it is draped. The H. Clubbers and the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Legionnaires they wouldn't approve it. It just doesn't knock the art bust."

Twin Falls Residents to Vote for 3 City Officials in Tuesday's Election

Twin Falls residents are urged to vote during Tuesday's city election in which four candidates seek through city commission posts, states Mrs. Constance J. Leiser, city clerk.

Mrs. Leiser said voting polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday. Voting polls are first ward, county courthouse; second ward, city hall; third ward, Wylie's Twin Falls Motor Co.; fourth ward, Memorial Lutheran Church; and fifth ward, Washington School.

Mrs. Leiser said 3,809 persons had registered by Saturday and nine absentee ballots have been cast. Voters who plan to be out of town Tuesday are reminded that they may cast absentee ballots until 5 p.m. Monday at city hall.

Three of the four candidates are seeking re-election in the city commission. They are Egon Kroll, chairman; John Angerbauer and Robert Warberg.

The only new candidate seeking a post on the commission is L.L. (Smokey) Cunningham, a retired fireman. He was a lieutenant for 10 years with the city fire department.

The three incumbents are seeking re-election because they would like to see the water bond issue through to completion besides several other projects which are in progress.

Cunningham says, "I feel I can do an excellent job of representing the people on the commission. I know the city and its needs and would like the opportunity to serve the citizens of Twin Falls the best way I can."

Angerbauer Saturday said he was "sorry that there are not more citizens that would like to get into city government." He added that he "would have liked to see more people running for the positions on the city commission."

Kroll, chairman of the commission, also encouraged the voters to get out Tuesday and use their voting privileges.

GETS TREATMENT
SHOSHONE — Mrs. Ella Vredenburg is staying with her niece, Mrs. Charles Stout, 707 Michael St., Boise, after surgery at St. Benedict's Hospital. She is receiving treatment from St. Luke's Hospital in Boise and will be in Boise several weeks.

vote. He said, "We would like the people to show just how much they are behind us by indicating it on their ballots Tuesday."

Warberg was not available Saturday for comment. He indicated earlier in the week that the water bond issue also is his main reason for running for a second term.

Burley League Meets Wednesday

BURLEY — The League of Women Voters will hold a bi-monthly unit meeting at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hansen, 2629 Burton Ave., to discuss the proposed city-county planning commission.

This spring the league began a study of planning and zoning in Burley. A booklet of local and state laws was compiled for background information for league members. The booklet will be used at this meeting.

League members unanimously agreed that a joint city-county planning commission would be advantageous to the development of the Burley area.

Police Target

TOMFORD, England (UPI) — "It's pretty certain the fellow is after us," a police spokesman said here.

A thief, nicknamed the "Liberty Taker," recently burglarized a pub next to the police station, broke into four police officers' homes, and stole a radio from a detective patrol car.

Schweitzer Paid Honor by Award

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Leif Erikson Award, marking achievement in pioneering activities, was awarded posthumously today to Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., made the presentation at the U.S. pavilion at the New York World's Fair in a ceremony marking "Leif Erikson Day." He said the quiet doctor and the Scandinavian adventurer "shaped an indomitable spirit."

Filer Lists New Volumes

FILER — A number of new volumes have been added to the shelves of the Filer Library, and are ready for circulation, announces Mrs. F. C. Albion, librarian.

Fiction selections include "Up the Down Staircase," Kaufman; "Those Who Love," Stone; "War and Peace," Tolstoy; "Vanity Fair," Thackeray; "Run Me a River," Giles; "Northwest Passage," Roberts; "Save Every Lamb," Stuart; "Where the Red Fern Grows," Rawls.

"Man O' War," Farley; "Jazz Country," prize winner at the spring book festival; Bentoff; "Ring the Judas Bell," Forman; "Drop Dead," Cunningham; "Bristle Face," Ball; "Skil the Mountain," Miller; "On to Gretna," Morrow; and "The Witch Family," Estes.

Non-fiction are "Emily Dickinson, Her Letter to the World," Longworth; "With All My Love," DeFore, and "Dearest Debbie," Rogers.

A number of books for smaller children have been added, stated the librarian. Total circulation for September was 487 books.

Shoshone Girl Gets Certificate

SHOSHONE — Cheryl Lowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lowry, north Shoshone, was awarded a certificate of accomplishment from Link's School of Business, Boise, for completion of the Nancy Taylor course.

She was elected Miss-Most Improved by her classmates and was given a graduation diploma by the National director of the Nancy Taylor development of beauty, charm and poise.

At a style show Wednesday evening, Miss Lowry played several accordion numbers during intermission. She will complete her training at the business school around the first of the year.

Mental Tests Outlawed in Slaying Trial

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Accused triple slayer Duane Earl Pope, 22, will not be allowed pre-trial mental examinations because they might "cloud the case," said Federal District Judge Robert Van Pelt.

Van Pelt denied the prosecution motion Friday but said "adequate government psychiatric help would be allowed to examine Pope."

"Right now I'm going to use a safe method," he said.

Pope's defense attorneys, Robert H. Crosby, former governor of Nebraska, and Wallace M. Rudolph, said a pre-trial examination would violate Pope's constitutional rights.

Three bank officials and winding a fourth in the robbery of the Farmers State Bank at Big Springs, Neb., on June 4.

He was surrendered to Kansas City, Mo., police about a week later.

He has pleaded innocent, maintaining he is blameless because of his mental condition at the time.

Pope's trial will begin in U. S. District Court in Lincoln on Nov. 1.

Fairlane for '66 Has Two New Models

Optional engines for all models except Fairlane GT and GEA models include the 280-CID, two-barrel V8; the 390-CID, two-barrel V8, and the 390-CID, four-barrel V8 rated at 315 horsepower. All engines use regular fuel except the 390-CID, four-barrel V8.

Six manual transmissions are available with the 1966 Fairlane. Fully synchronized three-speed manual transmissions are standard with all V8 engines. A three-speed manual transmission fully synchronized in second and third gears in standard with the 280-CID Six.

Two fully synchronized four-speed transmissions are available. A four-speed with a 2.78:1 low ratio is used with the 280-CID, two-barrel V8 engine and a four-speed with a 2.32:1 low ratio is used with the 390-CID engines.

Overdrive is available with the 280-CID two-barrel V8 engine.

An exciting new "his and hers" Sportcraft lift automatic transmission, two new model series, three big new engines, new convertibles and completely new styling highlight the Fairlane for 1966.

The 1966 Fairlane, body retains unitized construction but is completely new. The model level has been further reduced for 1966, through the newly designed body structure and lavish use of improved sound-barrier materials such as a one-piece molded, dash sound absorber.

The instrument panel has been redesigned to accommodate the new cluster, integral air conditioner, heater, glove, ash tray and a larger radio compartment.

Five engines are available with the 1966 Fairlane. The standard engine for all models except those in the Fairlane GT series is the 280-CID Six. Standard engine for Fairlane GT and GEA models is a 390-CID four-barrel V8 rated at 315 horsepower.

Answer Call

WENDELL — Rural fire department answered a weed fire alarm at 1:25 p.m. Saturday at an unoccupied farm two and one-half miles west and three-fourths mile north.

The fire was put out and the firemen returned to the fire station at 2:25 p.m. The cause of the fire was unknown and no damage reported.

WOMAN GETS HONORS
BOISE (AP) — Mrs. Elaine Walters of Blackfoot, walked off with honors in two divisions of the annual awards contest of the Idaho Writers' League.

Mrs. Walters was ranked in first place in both the adult and adult study sections and won third place in light verse.

SMYLLIE TO SPEAK

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smyllie travels to Washington, D. C., New Haven, Conn., and Toledo next week to keep three speaking engagements and to attend a meeting of the advisory council of Inter-Governmental Relations.

The Idaho Governor will leave Wednesday and will be in Washington Thursday and Friday for council sessions.

Friday night he will fly to New Haven to address a President Eisenhower "Birthday" and Fund-Raising Dinner and then will return to the Connecticut City Friday night to address the Yale University Young Republican Club.

He will be in Toledo Saturday to speak at the National Council of Republican Workshops.

BID DATE UPDATED

POCATELLO (AP) — The Idaho Accelerator Committee, headed by Fred Rooney of Pocatello, plans to send additional information to the Atomic Energy Commission Saturday in a bid for the $14 million proton accelerator installation.

Rooney said the updated version of information covers pertinent points of the criteria outlined by the AEC on site requirements. The new information covers three areas—air transportation and facilities, Idaho State University and electric power structure.

The critical stage of selection has been reached and 85 sites are still in the running from an original list of 200.

PLANS LISTED

GRANGEVILLE (AP) — Expansion of Idaho's effort to attract new industry and more tourists were listed Friday as goals of the State Department of Commerce and Development.

Secretary Louise Shadduck outlined the program at a meeting in Grangeville of the department's advisory council.

The council, which was organized last year, was headed by the department for advertising and promotion with more than $40,000 allocated for industrial advertising in trade magazines.

WIND UP TOUR

POCATELLO (AP) — Members of the new State Parks Board will wind up two days of touring southeast Idaho parks and meeting local officials Saturday. They are scheduled to meet Sunday with the owners of the Harriman Ranch at Island Park.

The board will meet at 10 a.m. with Mr. and Mrs. E. Roland Harriman at the ranch north of Ashton. At meetings here board members say there are plans to take immediate possession of the 10,000 acre ranch for a state park.

WON'T RUN AGAIN

REXBURG (AP) — Mayor Gilbert R. Larson has informed city councilmen he will not seek re-election to a fourth term for the city of Rexburg.

Mayor Larson will complete three terms of office, a total of six years and eight months next January. The extra months in office resulted when the Idaho legislature changed the election date from April to November.

BOISE (AP) — Contributions of food, clothing and equipment for use by the Vietnamese people were invited today by the Second Tank Company Marine Corps Reserve, in Boise.

"This is the way," said Maj. Robert E. King Jr., Commander. "We in reserve can aid the civil action programs of our fellow Marines in Viet Nam."

MAN ARRESTED

BOISE (AP) — A 46-year-old Boise man, wanted on a federal indictment charging fraud in connection with the sale of oil leases, was taken into custody Friday by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

Clifford John Meyer was arrested at his Boise home but he was later released on $50,000 bond. U.S. Commissioner set his bond at $100,000 but federal Judge Ray McNichols later reduced it to $50,000.

ROAD REOPENED

LEWISTON (UPI) — U. S. Highway 95 between Coldspring and Winchester, closed since it was damaged in floods last January, was reopened this week. The state highway department reported.

Cost of repairing the 12-mile segment with nearly new road was $675,000.

STUDENTS CONVENE

MOSCOW (UPI) — Student body presidents and their dates from 25 Idaho high schools will meet with officers of the Associated Students of University of Idaho Oct. 16, at a luncheon in Boise.

For the fourth consecutive year, the ASUI officers will stage the program to answer questions about the university for the high school leaders. The prep students also will be guests of ASUI at the football game that afternoon between Idaho and Oregon State.

CLUB TO ELECT

BOISE (AP) — Election of officers will be part of the club's first annual meeting Sunday, Secretary John Clark of Boise said Saturday.

The retiring president is Norman Martin, Boise, former newspaper for United Press International who is now press secretary to Gov. Robert E. Smyllie.

Invited as speakers, Clark said, are State Democratic Chairman Lloyd Walker of Twin Falls and two announced Democratic candidates for governor, State Sens. William J. Don of Grangeville and Cecil Andrus of Orofino.

CITIZENS' CANDIDATES for Twin Falls City Board of Commissioners

JOHN K. ANGERBAUER

EGON H. KROLL
(Chairman)

ROBERT M. WARBERG

The Citizens' Committee urges your support of the above candidates in the General Municipal Election Tuesday, October 12, 1965. The committee feels the present Board of Commissioners has performed outstanding service to the community and recommends that the present membership of the Board be maintained so these public officials can follow through on the projects they have commenced, particularly the construction phase of the $2,540,000 waterworks improvement program.

THEIR ACCOMPLISHMENTS INCLUDE:

- Maintained the same mill levy while continuing to expand public services
- Completed construction of the sewage disposal system and collection lines
- Annexed approximately 215 acres to the City
- Completed construction on the new Fire Substation
- Provided a retirement program for City employees
- Revised and adopted complete new zoning and subdivision ordinances
- Continued expansion in waterworks, parks, street, airport departments
- Appointed an Urban Renewal Agency

These candidates state: "We are proud to have had the privilege of serving the people of Twin Falls for the past four years. We feel that the City Manager form of government as practiced in Twin Falls is the most efficient form of City Government. The present City Commissioners have worked in complete harmony to conduct the affairs of the City to the best interests of all the people of Twin Falls. We pledge our full support to the continued economic operation to all city departments; to the construction of the waterworks project which will bring an abundant and safe supply of water to Twin Falls; to continue to work for airport expansion to handle jet traffic; to give full support to the Urban Renewal study and the civic auditorium association. We will continue to aid the College of Southern Idaho trustees in every possible way."

Fischer Quints Appear on Boat

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets made the first full-blown public appearance of their young lives Saturday, riding a float in the homecoming parade of Aberdeen's Northern State College.

Since their birth on Sept. 14, 1963, the quintuplets have been seen on family outings only occasionally and on public display never.

Their appearance in the parade was a closely guarded secret up to the time they wheeled into the parade route on the float with a 10-foot-high heart providing a backdrop for the youngsters.

Funeral Held For Jerome Ex-Resident

JEROME—Funeral services for Mrs. Bernice Beyer Shockey, 48, former resident, at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Bertelson-Lien Funeral Home Chapel, On-Longer Memorial Chapel, On-Longer, Ore., by Rev. T. S. May, pastor of the First Baptist Church there.

Sister was Hal Poe and the sister-in-law was Mrs. Danny Beyer.

Mrs. Shockey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Hite, was born April 20, 1902, in Jerome. She graduated from Jerome High School in 1920.

She was married to Roy Shockey April 30, 1942, at Boise, and had resided since that time at Bend and Milton-Freewater, Ore., moving to Ontario eight years ago.

She is survived in addition to her husband and parents by four daughters, Phyllis, Pauline, Jeanne Shockey, all On-Longer, three brothers, Gerald, Eugene and Robert Hite, and one sister, Mrs. Gerald (Donna) Guter, all Jerome.

Concluding rites were held at the Deschutes Memorial Garden in Bend, Ore.

Blaine Steele Heads Grange At Hagerman

BLISS—Blaine Steele was installed master of the Bliss Grange Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Kistler and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baumgartner, all Gooding, as installing officers.

Other officers installed were Frank Lenker, overseer; Mrs. Fred Hainline, lecturer; Arthur Daniels, steward; James Anderson, assistant steward; Mrs. Elsie Butler, chaplain; Harold Hainline, treasurer, and Mrs. Hainline, secretary.

Bliss, master, was Blaine Steele, Pomona, Mrs. Harold Butler, Ceres; Mrs. Robert Butler, Flora; Mrs. Frank Lenker, lady assistant steward, and the new committeeman, Verne Carson.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shirk, Hagerman. The Grange will serve at the Willard Turkey farm sale Oct. 14. The next meeting will be Oct. 21. Mr. and Mrs. Steele served refreshments.

Jerome Unit Slates Meet

JEROME—Monthly meeting of the Jerome County Association for Retarded Children will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the American Legion Hall here, Chas. Moore, president, announced.

He and John F. Giesler, Jerome Junior High School principal and Mrs. Helen Mahbutt, special education instructor in the Gooding schools, have been appointed to the board of directors in all recently existing vacancies.

"The association feels fortunate in having these new board members whom we feel are capable of filling the need for a qualified professional staff in the association, particularly in securing the opportunity classes which the group sponsors for the severely mentally retarded," Moore said.

The annual carnival sponsored by the group to raise funds for the Opportunity school, will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday at the Jefferson School Cafeteria. The event will include booths operated by various groups and individuals who have donated their services.

The association requests any persons who would like to offer assistance or materials for the benefit of the carnival to call either Mrs. Clyde Moore, Mrs. Russell Wootley, Mrs. Kenneth Phillips or John Giesler in the evenings.

EVENING CLASSES at the Area Vocational School of the College of Southern Idaho are being planned to meet the educational needs of Magic Valley. Here, instructor H. O. Bowen, right, and a student, Robert Bailey, both Twin Falls, study one of the visual aids in the first adult extension course offered at the college, concrete technology. The class has an enrollment of 48 and serves to give additional training to men employed in a trade where a further knowledge of concrete can be useful in advancing them in their occupation or to more adequately function as employees. (Times-News photo)

Area Vocational School Launches Plan For Adult Extension Evening Classes

An extensive program of adult extension evening classes is being launched by the Area Vocational School of the College of Southern Idaho. The courses are designed for people needing additional training to more adequately function in their present occupation or advance in it.

It is anticipated that vocational school authorities, from four to six classes will be conducted each evening. At present a 21-week course in concrete technology, with an enrollment of 48 men from Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert and Jerome, is being conducted. Because of the large enrollment two three-hour a week classes are being held, each week, with half the enrollment attending each class.

Welding classes will begin Oct. 18 and will include electric arc, acetylene and heliarc. As in the concrete technology course, enough interest has been shown in this class that it may be necessary to organize two sessions weekly.

One group will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, and the other sessions on Tuesday and Thursday at the same hours. Welding falls into a category of trade extension, and as in certain other night classes enrollees must be employed in the occupation in which the skill he seeks training in is a necessary or useful part of his job. The college has indicated it would be in a position to offer a variety of trade extension courses providing at least 10 people are interested in enrolling. Night class possibilities in the business division, human relations, freight rates and interstate Commerce Commission regulations, computing your income tax, the small investor and typing, and in the home economics division, dressmaking, knitting, millinery and cake decorating.

Agricultural division course possibilities are, agri-chemical, agri-business, fundamentals of landscaping, principles of horticulture and first aid to livestock. In the trade and industrial division courses such as automotive tune-up, automotive electrical systems, industrial first aid, state of Idaho electrical code, automotive transmission overhaul and photography are some of the suggested courses.

Radio and television announcing, preparation for first class radio-phone license, A.C. and D.C. motors and generators, color television servicing and fundamentals of surveying are some of the technical division course suggestions.

General courses such as parliamentary procedure and reading improvement were also indicated as possibilities.

Instructors for the courses will be both educated and experienced in the field of instruction and will be authorized by the state board for vocational education.

BURL—Members of the Burl Rotary Club viewed the World Series game on television at the luncheon meeting Thursday in the R and R Cafe banquet room.

Guests included Darrell Loos, Ernest Sparks, Mike Feltton, Donald Emery, John Hopworth and Rev. Delmar M. Talley. Visiting Rotarians were Rev. Jack Garrabrandt, Jerome; Rev. John Tulk, Shoshone; Arlie White, Twin Falls, and Fred Sparks, La Puente, Calif.

Looking for a Better Job?

Men and women, ages 18 and over, are wanted to prepare for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1918. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the splendid opportunities in Government positions, full details have been printed in a new booklet, "U.S. Civil Service Positions and Salaries," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply send your request to Lincoln Service, Inc., 211 Broadway, Dept. 12-6, Pekin, Illinois. A postcard will do.

Bossard Is Speaker at Lions Meet

MURTAUGH—C. E. (Edd) Bossard, Twin Falls, district governor, was guest speaker at the Thursday night meeting of the Lions Club held at the Grange Hall.

Mrs. Bossard also was a guest at the ladies night potluck supper meeting.

Mrs. Louella Anderson, Houston, Tex., was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Glen Breeding. Shelley Breeding played two piano selections.

Members of the Lions Club expressed their appreciation to the Murtaugh Grange for the $100 donation to assist in paying for the electric scoreboard at the new gymnasium.

The annual Lions Club light bulb sale will be under way next week with sales starting in Kimberly on Monday and progressing through Hansen and Murtaugh the remainder of the week.

NFO to Meet On Tuesday

BURL—The Twin Falls County unit of the National Farmers Organization will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Burl VFW Hall. All interested farmers are invited to attend.

Dale Gould, bean committee chairman, will report on the national supply of dry edible beans. It is noted the NFO has been a very accurate source of information on bean supply and quantity. Its resource comes directly from farmers from all major bean growing states.

All NFO members are urged to submit bean totals, where stored, and if certified or commercial beans, at the meeting Tuesday night. A discussion will revolve around bean prices for local and interstate orders.

E. B. (Bill) Hicks, president, reports NFO meat marketing arrangements have been given credit for the substantial amount of increase in the more desirable prices that have prevailed during the past several months in the mid-western area.

Astronomer Doubts Idea Of Universe

LONDON (AP) — Prof. Fred Hoyle, Britain's foremost astronomer, dropped a scientific bombshell Saturday. He said he probably has been wrong for 20 years about the nature of the universe.

One of the most brilliant minds in modern astronomy, Hoyle has been the chief proponent of the steady-state theory of the universe. This theory holds that matter is being created continuously out of energy, and the universe has always been much the same as it is now.

By his theory, the creation of new matter caused the universe to expand and the galaxies—the island universes of stars—to move away from each other.

Against this theory, many astronomers argue that the universe started with an explosion—the so-called "big bang" theory. By their account, this is the reason for the galaxies moving away from each other.

But many an astronomer sided with Hoyle.

In an article in the scientific journal "Nature," Hoyle did not go over to the "big bang" theory. He said he now believes the universe probably is in a state of flux, expanding for billions of years, then contracting to what amounts to a dense ball of matter, then expanding again.

Or it may be possible that only parts of the universe are pulsating, including our corner while other parts remain unchanged, the Cambridge astronomer added.

His new ideas are based on recent observations, especially those of quasi-stellar radio sources. These faint and undefined but huge "quasars" are on the edge of the visible universe.

He says recent observations point to the theory that the universe was much denser in the past than it is now. If that is the case, the steady-state theory is out.

In Hoyle's own words: "From the data I have presented here it seems likely that the idea will now have to be discarded, at any rate in the form it has widely become known—the steady-state universe."

Jordan Says Next Session To Fix Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, said Saturday he agrees with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, that the next session of Congress "should be devoted to repairing bills rushed through this year."

"In some cases," Jordan said in a statement, "we have had what by past congressional standards amounts to instant legislation. Hearings and debate have been limited."

"We have hastily passed an undetermined future cost an unprecedented number of bills which are vague in outline and wholly speculative in effect."

Duty First

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — Three Newark detectives were glumly back on routine jobs today after a week of "acting in the line of duty."

They spent the week watching a burlesque show alleged to be indecent.

"Strictly in the line of duty," police officials stressed.

Armored Bus Is Used to Escape Reds

HELMSTEDT, Germany (UPI) — A young East German smashed a crudely armored bus through four rows of barbed wire today in a daring flight to West Germany.

He was wounded in the escape.

Customs officers at the Helmstedt highway checkpoint said the bus driver bullet-proofed his vehicle with sheets of steel in preparation for his escape bid, which he had planned in advance.

At 1:45 a.m., as he approached the East-West border, he suddenly swerved off the road, cut across a field, and plowed into the barbed wire.

Team of Physicians Ponders Mystery Death Gene

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — This medical mystery, and reported findings to a meeting of the American College of Physicians here.

It began with the sudden death of a boy, 16, and his sister, 14. The puzzle was why either should have died with no apparent cause.

Tracing the youngsters' family tree back through eight generations, and getting detailed histories of 127 members, the physicians discovered that 21 of them had died under similar circumstances since the early 1800's. The 21 victims ranged from 1 to 56 years old, averaging 33 years in death.

In one branch of the family, 10 people had died, at an average of 17 years.

Most of the victims had complained in varying degree of feelings of faintness. But they hadn't shown any other signs of suffering from heart or blood vessel diseases.

Physical checkups of 20 living members of the whole family did not "show any consistent abnormalities," the physicians said.

One woman had borne three children who died unexpectedly. Her heart showed some changes in electrical patterns when she underwent mild exercise, but various drugs did not produce any changes in her heart rhythm.

Autopsy examinations of the 16-year-old boy and 14-year-old girl did not disclose any gross or obvious heart defects.

But closer and microscopic examination showed that they had malformations in the electrical patterns when she underwent mild exercise, but various drugs did not produce any changes in her heart rhythm.

Apparently, the physicians said, these inherited defects stem from one gene, affecting males and females alike, and showing up from time to time within the family. It can produce arrhythmias or untended heart beats, and various stresses of living can become too challenging, causing death.

Vatican Council to Complete Modernization by Christmas

Sunday, Oct. 10, 1963
Twin Falls Times-News 9

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council entered its fourth year Monday, Oct. 7, with the goal of launching the new era of modernization and renewal.

With the 2,300 council bishops working at unprecedented speed, all the remaining documents — with one possible exception — are expected to be finished by late December.

The range of issues covered and those still to come is vast. The issues hold profound meaning not only for Roman Catholics but for the rest of the world as well.

By the time the council ends, the leaders of the Catholic Church will have come up with a new set of guidelines for the Church government, relations with other religions, Jews and other Christians, and countless other issues.

For the first time in its history, the church will have been pushed by its leaders into a direct embrace with the rest of the religious and secular world.

Nothing has been a revolution, accomplished in a remarkably short time. When Pope John XXIII opened the council on Oct. 11, 1962, no one knew how long it would last. But the talk was of at least five years, and a duration of even 10 or 20 years was not ruled out.

There was fumbling and uncertainty at first as cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops and heads of religious orders re-assembled for the first ecumenical council since 1869-70.

Gradually, the council fathers found their range and blasted away traditions of secrecy, hesitation and indecision.

The bishops set up panels to inform the world through the daily press of what the council was doing.

Council fathers outlined for themselves an unprecedented share of governing power with the Pope. And Pope Paul VI approved.

What would have caused shock just a few years ago came to be accepted as normal — bishops in the council meeting hall in St. Peter's apostolic hall in St. Peter's apostolic hall in St. Peter's apostolic hall.

Church laws on birth control, clashing with each other on controversial aspects of life in the Church and beyond.

In its first session the council finished no documents.

In the second it issued two — on liturgy and mass communications.

In the third session it produced three — on the nature of the Church, on the Eastern Church and on Christian unity.

Since this fourth and final session opened Sept. 12, the council fathers have virtually completed work on four — liturgy, divine revelation, bishops, and liturgical orders.

1966 Falcon Has Many Innovations

New roominess, outstanding economy and technical innovations make the 1966 Falcon an even more attractive automobile value than before.

Curved side panels make its appearance in the Falcon line for the first time in 1966. An optional air conditioning system includes outlets integrated with the instrument panel. Reverseable keys and keyless locking also are features of all 1966 Falcons as are new, stronger lock assemblies.

The wheelbase for sedan models has been increased 1.5 inches to 110.9 inches, and overall sedan length has been increased 2.7 inches to 184.3 inches. The increase in station wagon size is even more dramatic with overall length increased 14.4 inches to 198.7 inches and the wheelbase increased 3.5 inches to 113 inches.

The Falcon lineup for 1966 consists of 10 models in three series. Included are two- and four-door sedans and four-door station wagons in Falcon and Futura series and a new Falcon Futura Sports Coupe.

The new Futura Sports Coupe has an standard equipment with a bucket seats, an accent paint stripe, deluxe wheelcovers with knock-off hubs, 14-inch wheels and the 200-CID six cylinder engine.

The all-new unified construction of the Falcon incorporates a redesigned front suspension with a higher roll center and isolated front torque boxes. Shake and vibration are dramatically reduced and a new Hotchkiss rear suspension with longer and wider rear springs improves the car's ride and cornering stability.

The standard engine for all Falcon models except the Futura Sports Coupe and station wagon is the 170-CID 251. The seven-main-bearing 200-CID, standard on the Futura and station wagons, is optional for all other models.

Available also as an option for all Falcons is the 200-horsepower, 289-CID, two-barrel V8. All Falcon engines are designed to operate efficiently on regular fuel.

The three-speed manual transmission is standard for all models, with a three-speed Cruise-O-Matic automatic transmission optional for all models.

Mutilation Claim Will Be Denied

IDAHIO FALLS (UPI)—Idaho Falls officials said Friday they have been told the city insurance carrier will recommend denial of a $300,000 claim filed in the mutilation of a small girl at the municipal zoo.

The decision of the insurance carrier was reported to the city council by City Attorney Art Smith.

The claim was brought on behalf of 6-year-old Stephanie Daniel of Idaho Falls. The child's right arm was amputated after she was attacked by a pair of wolves at the zoo in June. The child apparently stuck her arm into their cage.

The council will receive a formal written report before taking action on the suggestion. If the council denies liability,

Idaho Official to Keynote Mental Health Conference

WENDELL — Dr. Terrell O. Carver, Administrator of Health for the Idaho State Department of Health, will be the keynote speaker for the annual conference of the Idaho Mental Health Association, to be held Monday and Tuesday at the Ponderosa Inn at Burley.

Dr. Carver will address the delegation at 9 a.m. Tuesday. He will speak on the theme of the conference, "For Mental Health Services — Organize, Communicate, Coordinate."

He was named to his present position Feb. 1, 1958. He also served as secretary of the State Board of Health.

Dr. Carver, a native Idahoan, was born July 30, 1921, at Preston. His professional education began at Boise Junior College. He received a B.S. degree from the University of Idaho and graduated from the University of Oregon Medical School in 1945.

Upon graduation, Dr. Carver fulfilled his internship at the U.S. Marine Hospital, San Francisco, Calif.

In 1948, Dr. Carver attended the Tulane University School of Public Health at New Orleans, where he received his Masters of Public Health degree.

Before joining the Idaho Department of Health, he served active military duty with the U.S. Public Health Service from July, 1940, to October, 1948. He attained the rank of Senior Asstant Surgeon (Captain). Most of his military service was spent as a State Tuberculosis Control Officer with the Louisiana State Health Department.

Bonfire Rally Planned Friday

HAGERMAN — A bonfire rally will be held at 8:15 p.m. Friday behind the Legion hall for the homecoming game with

3 Supervisors To Be Elected On Nov. 8

SHOSHONE—The Wood River Soil and Water Conservation District will conduct an election Nov. 8 to elect three supervisors.

The terms of Mont Johnson, Richfield; Orville Davis, Dietrich; and Paul Bancroft, north Shoshone, expire this year.

Johnson and Davis have expressed a desire to retire from the board. Bancroft will run again.

Letroy Magallon, Richfield, has been nominated to succeed Johnson, and Martin Jauregui, Dietrich, has been nominated to succeed Davis.

Anyone wishing to nominate other candidates may obtain a petition form.

After the election, the new board of supervisors will elect officers.

Zenith Sets All Time
TV Industry Record
With Orders
FOR TWO MILLION
TV SETS IN ONLY
8½ MONTHS!

FOR THE SEVENTH STRAIGHT YEAR ZENITH IS NUMBER ONE IN TV SALES!

In 1959, Zenith sold a million TV sets and became America's largest selling TV. Zenith has been the industry sales leader ever since. FIRST FOR SEVEN STRAIGHT YEARS!

Each year, Zenith sets new sales records. Zenith was first to sell one and a half million TV sets in one year!

Zenith was the FIRST to sell one million seven hundred-fifty thousand TV sets in one year! But all the old sales records pale when compared to the one Zenith is rolling up this year. The first six months of 1965, Zenith matched its 1959 total TV sales—one million sets sold!

Then, on September 11, Zenith reached another new all-time industry high—firm orders for two million TV sets in only 8½ months for delivery in the first eleven months of 1965! And the record is even more amazing when you consider that up to now, no one has ever sold two million TV sets in any 12-month period.

Zenith's continuing sales success is a reflection of consumer acceptance of Zenith Handcrafted quality.

Zenith refuses to build service problems into TV. Every connection in a Zenith Handcrafted chassis is carefully hand-wired for greater dependability and fewer service problems. There are no plastic printed circuit boards. No production shortcuts.

It may take longer to build Zenith TV this way, but it's the kind of dedication to quality that makes Zenith TV — black and white or color — more dependable and far easier to service.

No wonder, then, that Zenith is America's largest selling TV. At Zenith, THE QUALITY GOES IN BEFORE THE NAME GOES ON!

This demand for ZENITH COLOR TV is as great in Twin Falls as it is nationally. We are unable to deliver all of the Zenith Color sets we have orders for—WE ARE SORRY, we are doing the best we can. Come in and place your order. ZENITH is worth waiting for. It IS better than the rest—yet it costs no more. We are receiving Zenith Color sets every week and delivering them according to the date purchased.

We have been promised bigger shipments—so come in and place your order NOW for ZENITH. THERE IS ALL OF THE REST and then there is ZENITH. Don't sell yourself short.

Farm Bureau Plans Award For Selling

SHOSHONE. — A steak dinner will be awarded by Leland Hensley, Twin Falls, district field director for Farm Bureau, to any member in district three who sells the most membership for 1965.

Leland County members who worked on the membership drive last year will be given a complimentary ticket to the annual county election banquet to be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 19 at the Manhattan Cafe. Local merchants are providing prizes and table favors.

Spokane Hall, Twin Falls, will be speaker. Auction numbers will be played for entertainment. All past presidents of the county group will be recognized during the evening.

Officers will be elected after the banquet. The nominating committee consists of Glenn L. Sorenson, Dietrich; Oscar Thiemann and M. E. McKendrick, north Shoshone.

Jerry Johnston, Richfield, reported on the grassman of the year tour at the Thursday Farm Bureau meeting held at the courthouse. He said Richfield Farm Bureau had sponsored the county grassman winner, Leroy Magoffin.

Tickets for the banquet are available through Sorenson, Dietrich; Grant Stevens and Johnston, Richfield; Mrs. Ervin Braun, north Shoshone; Earl Vincent and the Manhattan Cafe, Shoshone.

A young people's meeting has been set for Oct. 20 at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley. Several eligible youths in the county will be contacted to solicit their attendance. Mrs. Larry Peterson, Carey, is district young people's representative.

Smylie Says Rockefeller Is Flattering

BOISE (AP). — Gov. Robert T. Smylie says the mention of his name as a possible presidential candidate is "flattery of the highest order."

But he said he declined New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's suggestion "more of a tribute to Idaho than to myself."

Smylie was one of three state chief executives mentioned by Rockefeller as potential candidates for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968. The others were Govs. William Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan.

"The mention of my name or the name of the governor of Idaho is flattery of the highest order," Smylie said. "But the fact is whether it is speculation or not, the best part is the East is considering the West. They now know it is Idaho not Iowa or Ohio."

Rockefeller discussed the 1968 campaign during his two-day visit to Idaho but reiterated his earlier statement that he will not seek the nomination.

In answer to a question, Smylie said he believes Rockefeller's decision is "irrevocable."

"His staying out," said Smylie, "will tend to discourage any effort toward polarization toward two divergent camps. This line with his belief the party should stay near the middle of the road."

Masterpoint Is Played by Club

HAZELTON. — Six tables were in play at the regular monthly masterpoint meeting of the Hazelton Duplicate Bridge Club Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Scott.

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Evanson, "Burr" Eddle first; Dexter Watkins and Mrs. E. R. Baisch, second; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Saunders, third; Mrs. Margaret Hoque and Mrs. L. Manning, both Burley, fourth; and Mrs. C. J. Straugh and Mrs. W. P. Harey, both Twin Falls, tied with Mrs. H. P. Ross and William Brown for fifth.

The next meeting will be held Friday evening for the annual bridge party. Masterpoint bridge will be played during the evening.

200 T.F. Boys Take Part In Punt, Pass, Kick Event

More than 200 boys between the ages of 8 and 13 participated in the annual Punt, Pass and Kick Contest sponsored by Union Motors Ford Co. and the City Parks and Recreation Department at 1 p.m. Saturday in Harmon Park.

Points were given according to how far each boy could punt, pass and kick a football. The points earned in each event were totaled and those with the most points in their particular age group were the winners.

Winners in the 8-year-old division were Tim Christ, first; Brian Burgess, second, and Richard Carney, third.

Nine-year-old winners were Bruce Bird, first; Mike Chuva, second, and Bob Williams, third. Mike Anderson took first, and Gary Irish and Shaun Sargison won second and third respectively.

Bombardment Ships Move in To Aid in Viet Nam Land War

WASHINGTON (AP). — Shore bombardment ships of the 7th Fleet are moving in so close to the coast of South Viet Nam's land war that they sometimes are practically alongside ground soldiers in the rice paddies.

It may now be reported that an example of this occurred last week.

A destroyer, responding to a call for gunfire on an enemy position, steamed well up the Saigon River to lob shells on the Viet Cong with some interruptions by river traffic.

Merchant ships sailed past. The destroyer ceased fire while each went by, then opened up again.

The steadily increasing activity of the U.S. Navy has been overshadowed in daily official announcements about land battles and air strikes.

Since last May, when the Defense Department ordered the 7th Fleet to rotate some of its destroyers and one of the two or three cruisers in the fleet to shore bombardment missions, thousands of tons of ammunition have been fired.

The bombardment force operates only against Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam.

More than 25,000 rounds of 5- and 8-inch ammunition have been used up to now and the tempo of the operation still is increasing as more and more requests come from Army and Marine forces for fire support.

All such fire support is done "on call." A ground unit, encountering heavy opposition or attack from fortified positions, radios a request to the corps area ashore, which relays it to the over-all coordinating command in Saigon. The order to a ship then comes in. This process

Assisting in judging and running the contest were Merle Eden, Richard Dun, Ed Chapp, Dale Chris, Bob Stradley, Chapp, Chapman, Russell Sheen, Art Duncan and Chad Browning.

Community Newcomers Are Welcomed at Event

BY NORMA HERZINGER

The cheery "Hi, neighbor" and welcoming parties of yesterday in honor of newcomers to a community seem to have been dropped by the wayside in our on-the-go modern society.

With this thought in mind, the Y-Wives Clubs of the YWCA sponsored a "Get-Acquainted Social" for residents new to Twin Falls.

To become acquainted with women of the same age and be welcomed into a social group can be of vital importance to the lady of the house. Not to know one's neighbors or the various opportunities offered by a community can be a very dismal situation for newcomers, especially those from another state who have no concept of the city or its surroundings.

The best way to combat this is to personally contact new residents and invite them to a social gathering.

All successful parties are concocted from the same ingredients. Members of the Y-Wives Clubs decided on an evening consisting of good company, good hostesses and good mixers and fun.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, adult committee chairman. Mrs. Marvin Molyneux, YWCA director, reviewed the YWCA program, explaining functions of the "Y" for the young and old alike.

Special entertainment was presented by "The Saints," Steve Olmstead, Danny Olmstead and Larry Larson. A humorous reading was given by Mrs. Reid Day and introductions were extended by Mrs. Bliss Russell.

Club activities were conducted with various displays by Mrs. W. A. Scott, Magic Valley Y-Wives; Mrs. Darwin Huller, Cheerful Matrons; Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Community Y-Wives, and Mrs. Quinton Harrah, Creative Y-Wives.

Hostesses for this outstanding event included Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. Earl Hoffman, Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Irene Melton, Mrs. Anna Hayes and Mrs. Kathy Howard.

The Y-Wives Clubs were organized for the purpose of achieving self and home improvement. Three of the clubs, Cheerful Matrons, Community Y-Wives and the Creative Y-Wives, are home demonstration clubs. (Times-News photo) and social clubs. The Magic Valley Young Wives unit is a social club. All of the groups are service clubs for the YWCA and for special features hostesses, speakers, demonstrations, etc.

Activities scheduled for women in the fall program at the YWCA include: bridge, with Mrs. Mary Cook as instructor; art, Mrs. Luby Stender; singing, Mrs. Leona Gilbert; and knitting, Mrs. Warren Williams.

Carolyn Meyer, Reinke Repeat Wedding Vows

Carolyn W. Meyer, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Harlan Meyer, and Ralph R. Reinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Reinke, all Twin Falls, were united in marriage Sept. 3 at the Twin Falls Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Rev. Henry Trent, pastor, officiated. The double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with sunset gladioli and bronze-colored chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white organza. The fitted bodice, featuring lively point sleeves and a rounded neckline, was accented with lace and pearls, joined the bouffant skirt at the fitted waistline. An all-lace chapel train flowed from the shoulders. The bride's elbow-length veil of illusion fell from a rose crown. Her bouquet featured a cascade of roses and white Phalaenopsis orchids with ivy. She wore a small cross with a diamond setting, a gift from the bridegroom.

Maid of honor was Leslie Herring, friend of the bride, Eleanor Reinke, sister of the bridegroom, and Patricia Meyer, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. Melodie Jonely, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Gerald Reinke, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Glen Siren, Ivan Reinke, Harvey Meyer, and Ronald Meyer.

Gene Rulter was soloist, accompanied by Harvey Miskimen, organist.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church hall. Marie Warnholz was in charge of the guest book and gifts were displayed by Nancy Reinke and Carolyn Reinke.

Hostess for the reception was Mrs. Donald Snyder, aunt of the bride. The bride's table, covered with a white cloth and decorated with garlands of sunset gladioli, flowers and fern, was centered with an ornate four-tiered wedding cake decorated with peach-colored roses, mint green leaves, lattice hearts and small bells. A white satin bell beneath an archway of lace topped the cake. Zarina roses and gladioli flowers surrounded the cake.

Guests attended from Texas, Iowa, Minnesota, Washington, Idaho and South Dakota. After a wedding trip to Iowa, Mrs. Louis Reinke and Mrs. Del Butterfield, aunts of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake. Mrs. James Jonely, Mrs. Rudrick Meyer and Mrs. Ernest Mager, aunts of the bride, served coffee and punch.

Guests attended from South Dakota, Minnesota, Utah, Rulley, Boise, Nampa, Jerome and Kimberly.

The bride was honored at a kitchen and linen shower hosted by Leslie Herring.

To aid in smoothing out those tiny lines and wrinkle dryness around the eyes, regular vitalizing night creaming is recommended by skin care consultants. Gently coax the cream into the dry lines to soften and smooth the complexion, then press the cream along the deeper expression lines seven times with the finger tips. Complete the beautifying task by filming the Olay vitalizing night cream over the face and neck to give the complexion a look of soft loveliness.

Grace Fry, Lavers Recite Nuptial Promise

KIMBERLY — Grace Fry, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Henry Fry, became the bride of John W. Lavers, St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 5 in the Kimberly Redeemer Lutheran Church.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father and the groom's father. The bride was escorted by her brother, Victor Fry, Jr., and the groom was escorted by his brother, Robert Lavers. The bride wore a gown of lace and crepe with a bow train falling from the shoulders. She carried a cascade bouquet of Tropicanna roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Victor Fry and Mrs. Henry Fry Jr. were the bride's attendants. Rev. Victor Fry and the Rev. Henry Fry Jr., brothers of the bride, attended the bridegroom.

Kathy Fry and Michele Fry, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Jonathan Fry, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. Lewis Eilers and Gary Dohse served as ushers. Robert Anderson and Rex Warren were candlelighters.

Sandra Slevier registered the guests which included friends and relatives from Laurel, Mont., Las Vegas, Nev., Aurora, Ill.; Fargo and Walsley, N. D.; Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, and towns throughout Magic Valley.

Connie Whitehead and Darlene Eilers received the gifts which were arranged by Linda Miller, Marilyn Haynes, Marylene and Nancy Whitehead. The reception followed the ceremony in the church reception hall. The bride's table was covered with a linen cloth in which a replica of the "Last Supper" was woven. The cloth was a gift from the bride's grandmother in Germany. An anniversary candle, made by the bride's mother, served as the centerpiece.

The buffet table was covered with a white satin cloth with a white satin skirt draped with garlands of smilax and holly cut from material matching the dresses of the bride's attendants. The square-topped wedding cake was flanked by white candles in silver holders.

A silver coffee service, an heirloom more than 100 years old brought from Germany, completed the table arrangement.

Convention Reports Given At DUP Meet

Reports on the convention in Jerome of the Cassia, Minidoka, Jerome and Twin Falls County Companies, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, were given at the Lo-EmboCall Camp meeting at the home of Mrs. C. L. Luke.

Mrs. Kate B. Carter, president of the Central Company, was guest speaker at the convention. The invocation was given by Mrs. Arriet Green and Pioneer songs were led by Mrs. Larry H. Arunga.

Guest was Mrs. Michael Clawson, a native of Denmark. She showed items of art and culture of the Danish people. Mrs. James Wills read a synopsis of the life of her great, great grandmother, Patty Bartlett Sessions, and read poetry written by a close friend, Eliza R. Snow.

The lesson, "They Came in '65," was reviewed by Mrs. Green, outlining the condition of the country at that time and of the great courage of the pioneers in building the West.

Mrs. M. O. Crandall resigned as captain and was presented a volume of "Pioneer Heritage" for her past leadership. Mrs. Jerry Klomp was appointed new captain, with Mrs. Owen Barton as first vice captain and Mrs. D. O. Welker as second vice captain.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. Allen Smith.

The next meeting is Oct. 21 with Mrs. Barton as hostess.

Organizational Meets Held for Music Clubs

Under the sponsorship of the Twin Falls Federated Music Club, Twin Falls Junior Music Clubs are again being formed in the local schools.

Organizational meetings have been set in each school during September and October. Some meetings are held individually each year and some are combined programs. Mrs. Francis Rider, Junior Music Club chairman, has planned five combined meetings in addition to the Gold Cup Recital.

The program for November will be presented by the students who attended the Sun Valley Music Camp. A catering party in the park, hosted by St. Edwards Junior Music Club, is planned for December. Mrs. Ivan Squires is chairman for the Crusade for Strings in January.

In March they will meet with the Twin Falls Music Club for a dance program, presented by Beverly Buckley's dance students. The April program will be presented by the band. Mrs. Terry Sullivan is chairman.

Counselors for 1965-66 are Mrs. Squires and Mrs. Lloyd Stoker at Lincoln; Mrs. Dale Patterson, Washington; Mrs. Max Guyer, Morningside; Mrs. John Waters and Mrs. Joe Mendolia, St. Edwards; and Mrs. Terry Sullivan, O'Leary Junior High School and Robert Stuart Junior High School. Harrison is without a counselor at present.

In conjunction with the Junior Music Club program is the Junior Music Club Festival at which music students from throughout Magic Valley are judged by excellent musicians. Judges in previous years have included the Wassermans from Utah State University, Logan, and Richard Skyrn from the College of Idaho.

All students participating in the festival are required to belong to a junior music club. All junior club members are not, however, required to participate.

Dates for this year's festival have been set for Feb. 18 and 19, with Mrs. Rider and Mrs. Donald Heller as co-chairmen.

The Gold Cup Recital is set for 7:30 p.m., Feb. 24 at the YMCA building. Co-chairmen for the recital are Mrs. Rider and Mrs. Donald Youtz.

Shoshone LDS Unit Has First Meet of Season

Mrs. Burton Thorne, president, announced the annual bazaar is set for Nov. 19.

Mrs. Frank Stearns is serving again in the cradle room and will be presenting a lesson to the children who attend.

An all-day work meeting is slated for Tuesday.

Women Discuss Public Library Building Site

RICHFIELD—Richfield Women's Club members discussed the possibility of purchasing a building to house the public library when the unit met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds.

A meeting with village board members and representatives of local organizations is tentatively planned for Tuesday night at the high school to discuss proposed plans for a community building for the library and other uses.

The program was presented by Brownie and Girl Scout groups sponsored by the club. Mrs. Gordon Huffaker and Mrs. Jodey Parker presented eight Brownie Scouts in songs, a pantomime number and group recitation. Mrs. Howard DeWitt, Girl Scout leader, presented seven girls who participated individually.

Pamela Piper and Loran Jean Brush led the flag drill; Lorayne Wolverton and Carrie Schmidt gave readings, and Christine Davis, Brenda Johnson, Dawn Walker, Miss Piper, Miss Schmidt, Miss Brush and Miss Wolverton gave the Scout laws and promise.

The new flag used in the ceremonies was presented by Clifford Ward, local businessman. Mrs. Joseph Seward won a prize.

Hospital Guild Sets Luncheon, Fashion Show

RUPERT—Final preparations for the Hospital Guild's annual style show and luncheon set for Monday in the Elks Lodge, have been completed, according to Mrs. Carl Keesley and Mrs. A. P. Dalley, co-chairmen.

Other chairmen include Mrs. Lynn Manning and Mrs. Roy Hunsinger, decorations; Mrs. Ray Burton, publicity; and Mrs. Roland Jones, narrator.

Fashions will be provided by local interchanges including Ruppert's Clothing Store, James J. C. Penney's, Idaho Department Store, Buttons in a Row, and Frick's Fabrics.

Models include Mrs. Clarence Gibson Jr., Mrs. John Simpson, Mrs. D. J. Stevenson, Mrs. Van Schofield, Mrs. Frank Trevino, Mrs. Robert Broadhead, Georgia Newman, Debbie Toews, Debra Reynolds, Christine Reynolds, Jane Frick, Mrs. Roger Jones, Jana Jones and Douglas Jones.

Proceeds from the event will be used for hospital projects.

The guild was organized five years ago to assist in any way possible at the hospital.

During this time some of their projects have included purchasing equipment for the snack bar, furnishing and decorating the lobby, establishing a beauty bar for geriatric patients, purchasing doll to be used for licensed practical nurses classes, purchasing rocking chairs for obstetrics and the children's wards, providing a patio fence and furnishings, providing floral arrangements for patients and presenting "Pinky" puppets for all children.

The Pink Ladies donate time to operate the snack bar and gift shop and also make items to be sold in the gift shop.

They visit with patients, write letters and shop for them, operate a courtesy kiosk and distribute magazines to patients.

The guild has 48 active members who donate hours each month.

Mrs. Blain Nielsen is president of the group.

New Officers Are Announced

RUPERT—New officers elected to serve the Women's Department of the Ruppert Church for 1965-66 are announced.

Mrs. William Wright is the leader; Mrs. Burton Baughman, assistant leader; Mrs. Leonard Easterday, secretary; Mrs. Lorraine Easterday, treasurer. Officers will be installed at ceremonies Thursday.

Prior to the election meeting, Mrs. Frank Zapata, retiring leader, heard yearly reports from committee chairmen.

Local Girls Recipients of National Award

Two Camp Fire Girls received the Marian Award, a national award designed to help in the spiritual enrichment of Catholic girls in the junior high Camp Fire Girls Association, at special services at St. Edward's Catholic Church.

The award was presented by Renee Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buchanan, and Linda Reval, daughter of Mrs. Elmo Garrison and Tom Reval, by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edmund Cody.

While not intended to be a separate program, the Marian Medal requirements help provide a variety of opportunities for girls to develop knowledge and understanding of their faith while pursuing fields of interest including arts and crafts, literature, nature, homemaking and community life.

These requirements were previously reviewed and approved by Rev. Thomas Taylor of Msgr. Cody.

MR. AND MRS. H. EUGENE HITE JR. (Davis photo)

Miss Anderson, Hite Exchange Nuptial Vows

JEROME—The Roberts Community Church was the setting for the double ring rites uniting in marriage Barbara Ann Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Ruppert, and Howard Eugene Hite Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Eugene Hite Sr., Jerome.

The Sept. 10 nuptials were solemnized by Rev. Cecil Johnson of the Idaho Falls First Baptist Church before a background set of heavy baskets of pink and white gladioli and lighted candelabra.

Mrs. Elliot Gilchrist provided organ music and Mrs. William Berrett, accompanied by Mrs. Charles French, was soloist.

Donald Hite, brother of the bridegroom, was candlelighter. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown she designed and made of bridal satin. An overblouse of imported lace with a rounded neckline and long sleeves, she carried the camellia bouquet. The bell-shaped skirt featured a detachable train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of white satin and she carried a bouquet of miniature pink roses and carnations.

Her only jewelry was a pendant set with a cultured pearl and diamonds, a gift from the bridegroom.

Kathryn Anderson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Nancy Hite, sister of the bridegroom, and Gloria Anderson, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. Each attendant carried a nosegay bouquet of large white chrysanthemums.

Lanette Anderson, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She carried a white basket of pink and blue bachelor buttons. LeRoy Verlicke, Idaho Falls, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Steve Kaufman, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, Douglas Wolf and John Waite, all Idaho Falls.

A reception was held in the Camellia Room of Hotel Bonneville following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white net over French blue tulle and was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with sugar bells.

Mrs. Walter Foster, Mrs. Gordon Ritter and Mrs. Fred Thurston, all Roberts, presided at the silver coffee service. Punch was poured by Mrs. Lyle Johnson, Pocahontas, and Mrs. Ronald Wolf and Mrs. Weldon Waite, both Roberts.

Guests were served at quarter tables covered with white net over French blue and centered with a white carnation in a crystal vase.

Ann Ritter was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Gene Anderson was in charge of the gift table.

The couple took a wedding trip to Lake Louise, Jasper and Glacier Parks.

Out-of-town guests attended from Jerome, Boise, Moscow, Twin Falls, Kamiah and Montana.

Mrs. Eugene Anderson, aunt of the bride, hosted a rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party and close friends. Mrs. Thure Anderson, assisted by Mrs. Weldon Waite, hosted a tea honoring the bride. Pre-nuptial events were hosted by Mrs. Douglas Wolf and Mrs. Fred Thurston.

The bridegroom's parents hosted an open house for the newlyweds Sept. 17 in Jerome.

The bride's table was covered with white net over French blue and was centered with a bouquet of white carnations and ferns surrounded by light wedding-bell-shaped cakes decorated in white and blue. The table was flanked with heavy baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Guests were seated at quarter tables covered with white net over French blue and centered with bubble vases of white carnations and ferns.

Mrs. Robert Hite and Mrs. Robert Morris were in charge of the gift table, assisted by Donald Hite and Lanette Anderson.

Mrs. Earl Bird, Twin Falls, and Mrs. William Mobley, Jerome, were in charge of the guest book.

Assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. J. C. Gilver, Ketchikan, Mrs. Leonard Silver, Boise; Mrs. Gene Anderson, Roberts; Mrs. Gerald Ostler, Mrs. Bart Silver, Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Mrs. Raymond Silver and Mrs. Gerald Hite, all Jerome.

Others assisting were Sharon Johnson, Annette Johnson, Shirley Black, Mrs. Virgil Whitaker, Mrs. Arlis Baughman and Mrs. Vella Newman.

Miss Thunen, Neilsen Marry in California

Nuptial vows recited Sept. 4 in the Palo Alto First Congregational Church united in marriage Toni Virginia Thunen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Thunen, Menlo Park, Calif., and Richard P. Neilsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Neilsen, Twin Falls.

Rev. Arthur Cassidy officiated at the double ring ceremony before a background setting of baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in an empire styled white silk affair over tulle gown, designed with a scooped neckline and flowing sleeves. The gown was highlighted with appliques of jeweled re-embroidered alonca lace. The softly draped slim skirt swept into a chapel train.

A mantilla of heirloom lace adorned her dark hair. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums enhanced with dark green and yellow grape leaves.

Nancy Bossert, Santa Clara, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Janis Neilsen, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. George Washburn, Boise; Mrs. Peter Smith, Seattle; and Mrs. Jerry Meiler, Portland.

Nancy Arcady, Menlo Park, was flower girl.

David Iverson, San Diego, was best man. Ushers were Edward Thunen and Peter Thunen, brothers of the bride; Robert Reed, Gooding, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Michael Gray, Twin Falls.

Flaming baskets of yellow chrysanthemums decorated the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Taylor where the couple greeted their guests.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Fallen Leaf Lake, Calif.

The newlyweds were honored at an open house Sept. 11 at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

They will reside in Salt Lake City, where the bridegroom will be entering graduate school at the university.

Businessmen Ponder Effect Of Johnson's Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen this week pondered the effects of President Johnson's hospitalization, debated over rising interest rates and heard of a possible tightening of corporate investment credit.

The immediate result: little. The nation's economy, still rolling on its record pace, seemed scarcely paused for breath.

Major corporations continue to report higher earnings than a year ago and automobile makers prepared to turn out 880,000 new-model cars this month. National unemployment figures stood at their lowest level in nearly eight years.

At the bottom of the economy's strength, said economists, was the confidence of the average American consumer. A University of Michigan study said that despite widespread concern over the war in Viet Nam, consumers feel things at home will remain good or improve. The study concluded that the likelihood of a recession today than at any other time the last 15 years.

But President Johnson had two major business issues to take with him to Bethesda Naval Hospital. One was the cost of bank loans. The other was the nation's continuing balance of payments problem and U.S. corporate investments abroad.

Treasury Secretary Henry J. Fowler told a bankers' meeting in Chicago that the White House would not favor a broad increase in lending rates. Major banks, reacting to a tighter money supply and growing demand for loans, have increased interest charges recently to some business customers.

Fowler indicated that general increase in interest rates would hurt the economy — a view echoed by economist Arthur D.

22.75, while 1-2 grades sealed 200-240 lbs. sold from $23.50 to $24.25. Earlier in the period 1-2 grades reached $23.00 at Chicago.

Slaughter lambs were steady to 75 cents lower. Slaughter ewes were mostly steady, while feeder lambs brought steady to 50 cents, instances 1-800 lower prices.

Woolled lambs sold lower under the heavy influence of increased receipts, which was the largest since last December at the twelve markets, plus a lower wholesale dressed lamb trade.

Twelve market receipts of nearly 77,000 lambs were received above a week ago, but thirty-five per cent below a year ago.

In the carlot dressed lamb trade, prices were 1/2 to 1 cent lb. lower.

Choice and prime 85-110 lb. woolled lambs sold from $22.50 to $24.00, with mixed good and choice 85-110 lb. at $22.75.

Live cattle futures advanced 5 to 20 cents per hundredweight on the Chicago Merchandise Exchange this week. The October delivery was up least at $26.05 while next year's June futures led the advance to $25.20. A steady decline in the dressed beef market during the early part of the week bolstered the futures market although live steer markets were uneven.

Live poultry delivered to Chicago this week brought unchanged prices. Closing prices for wholesale grade eggs delivered to Chicago this week ranged from unchanged to 1 1/2 cents lower to 1 cent higher. Chicago wholesale butter prices closed the week generally unchanged. Chicago wholesale egg prices were unchanged to 1/2 to 1 cent higher for the weekend.

Aggies Roar in Last Half, Belt Vandals 30-19

BY LARRY HOVEY
(Times-News Sports Editor)

LOGAN — A pair of gift touchdowns and a suddenly awesome second half attack, carried the Utah State Aggies to a crushing 30-19 victory over Idaho's Vandals Saturday afternoon. Thoroughly dominated and trailing 10-0 in the first half, Utah State appeared ready to collapse when Idaho came up with a poor call, a pass that the Aggies turned into a touchdown after the half.

Reviewing the Cactus Pete's Open

Tournament Chairman Paul Bull, host pro Clyde Thomson and the entire committee did a fine job in bringing off the biggest, thing in Idaho golf history.

Although a few in the field had some complaints and had the committee worn down a little, he and his staff

perked up Sunday night when a great many of the golfers came by with compliments.

The losers were the Magic Valley golfers who missed seeing some of these great makers.

Some of its doubtless was due to the initiation of gallery fees.

The $1 per day for spectators, right-about-same anonymous phone call abuse down on Bull.

But it had to start sometime. If the tournament was to be a success, it had to be a success.

It is better to educate area kibitzers now when it isn't particularly essential. Some year the money may be needed and the people will be used to the idea by then.

Cliff Pollock, the leading amateur of the affair from Salt Lake City, was very loud in his praise of the tournament.

The Utah Open paid off $17,500 this year and the field wasn't anything close to the talent that in this one." Pollock was right.

"There are some really fine players here."

Asked how he could shoot a 61 on the opening day and a 72 on the final, Cliff Whittle, Scottsdale, Ariz., and community pro, smiled warmly.

"I was a case of too much golf and not enough practice."

Whittle had a four-putt on the third day. "I didn't mind the three putt, I've had them often," he said. "And I didn't get over it with the prospect of four-putting. What put me in I worked on that fourth putt. I marked the ball, plucked it, studied the green and still missed it."

Whittle brought along John Schlee, a 25-year-old who Whittle says "reminds me of old my Tom at about the same age."

Schlee has a couple of Phoenix backers who will put up the money to put him on the tour for two years — provided he can get on the tour. Now a neophyte must spend two weeks in PGA tour training, including two 72-hole golf tournaments and classes in deportment, golf rules and etiquette. Even then the PGA picks only the good players to go on.

"I will be Schlee's second shot at the tour."

"A couple of guys watched me make nine birdies and shoot 65 in the final round of the Dixie amateur. They came after me right away and put me on the tour. I played in three tournaments and didn't do a thing. They took me off," he remembers with a smile.

"They were a couple of Jewish gentlemen," he added self-consciously.

The happiest man in the tournament was Lou Kokal, now out of Ely but formerly the head man at Gooding. Kokal played far and away the best of all the intermountain pros and he was happy as a kid at Christmas with everything.

His eight-under-par 60, the best round of the tournament, brought $50 daily lip money and seldom has the honor been more appreciated. He just missed a hole-in-one and would have given his right arm for that. And it is possible he might frame the $450 check he got for trying for fifth, rather than spend it.

Needless to say, Kokal was decidedly the sentimental favorite. He played his big round to a good gallery while eventual winner, Ken Still, was almost alone.

One pro almost got a hole in his head. Playing with a California amateur, these pro knew the simon-pure miserable with such statements as "I don't see how they expect me to get in the money when I have to play with a hacker for a partner," etc.

Later the amateur confided, "I carry a pistol in my golf bag. We use them at home to take potshots at rabbits in the rough. If that guy would have said one more word, I would have had to shoot him."

He wasn't smiling!

Minnesota Smothers Indiana 42-13

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—quarterback John Hankinson passed for three touchdowns and Joe Holuberg threw for two Saturday to lead Minnesota to a 42-13 victory over Indiana in a Big Ten football battle.

A crowd of 46,010, trimmed by World Series interest, saw the Gophers smother to a 28-0 lead in the first half and keep up its domination in the second half to win easily.

The triumph, in cool, sunny weather, gave Minnesota a successful start in its Big Ten campaign and left Indiana with a conference record of 0-2.

Hankinson, a 6-1, 190-pound senior from Elkhart, Minn., threw touchdown passes to Dave Collins, Ray Whitlow and Ken Krueger to lead Minnesota's attack.

FILER RIPS TIGERS; BUHL STUNS MINICO

Wildcats End Series Jinx With 14-0 Shutout

JEROME—Anchoring a shutout defense on the play Pat Touchette, the undefeated Filer Wildcats ended their losing jinx Friday night by blanking the Jerome Tigers 14-0, marking Filer's first victory over Jerome in at least eight years and kept the Wildcats squarely pointed for their battle of undefeated and title-hungry teams with Gooding Oct. 29. Although the Jerome defense gave up yardage to the Steve Sharp-directed Wildcats, the Tigers stayed off scoring except for one penalty-abetted drive in the third quarter. The first Filer touchdown came on a second-quarter fumble that Lynn Chandler turned into a 35-yard scoring romp.

Touchette, a 202-pound tackle, was the tiger of the hard-hitting defense, particularly in the first half when Filer outgained the Tigers 158 yards to 55. Chandler, a 225-pound center, had his moment of glory on Jerome's first play of the game. A Tiger backfield man fumbled and the ball bounced up nicely for Chandler. He got a big block on the quarterback and rammed into the end zone. Gordon Pedrow got the point-after.

Filer put together a four-first-down drive in the second quarter but Jerome stayed in good field position thanks to the booming punting of Dennis Stauffer. A pass interception by Byron Carrier stopped Jerome at the Filer 28-yard line, a penetration that was Jerome's best of the half.

The third quarter was all Filer. Jerome having the ball for only five plays. The teams traded punts, Stauffer putting Filer back on its 11-yard line. But Sharp started bringing Filer out. After the first downs the Wildcats benefited from a 15-yard penalty to penetrate to Jerome's 29-yard line. After two losing plays, Pedrow swept 20 yards and Steve Taylor bounced up for 12 more to put the ball on the Jerome three. Pedrow swept the left side for the touchdown. Taylor the right for the point after.

Jerome's best bid came at midfield. Stauffer went into punt formation but tucked the ball away and sprinted 32 yards to the Filer 27. Bubak and Staff got a first down. Then Larry Hancock lofted a pass to Larry Bronson in the end zone. Bronson tipped the ball to a leaping Gary but Sharp batted the ball out of his hands a split second later.

Gary Dougherty intercepted the deflected ball and ran it back out to midfield.

Solons Rack Pilots 38-0 In Loop Play

GLENN'S FERRY — Big Ron Adamson went 25 yards for a touchdown on the sixth play of the game Friday night to point the Gooding Senators toward a 38-0 victory over the Glens Ferry Pilots in the Big Eight Conference play.

The win gave the Senators a 3-0 conference record, second only to Filer's 4-0 mark. The two meet Oct. 29 at Filer in a game that will probably decide the title.

The second time Gooding got the ball the Senators moved it to the Pilot nine where Leonard Day carried it in, giving the Senators a 13-0 first-quarter lead.

A 20-yard run by John Canine, one of 10 by Don James and a Ron Adamson conversion made it 20-0 at the half.

Larry Adamson went 35 yards off tackle in the third for a 22-0 lead and Bart Owsen ended the scoring with a four-yard plunge later in the period.

Navy Crushes William and Mary

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Halfbacks Terry Murray and Steve Shrawder accounted for five touchdowns Saturday leading Navy to a crushing 42-14 homecoming victory over William & Mary. Murray, a sophomore sensation, scored from the two and six-yard lines in the first quarter.

Vikings Edge Past Indians For 6-0 Win

SHOSHONE — Second-quarter Perkins capped a full-quarter Valley drive with a three-yard scoring plunge Friday night and the Viking defense held solid for a 6-0 victory over the Shoshone Indians.

Shoshone was within scoring range three times after that, but the Vikings used some hard hitting and pass stealing to end the threats.

The Indians also proved to have some tough defense, stopping the Vikings several times within the 20-yard line.

Valley piled up 172 yards on offense and 12 first downs to the 80 yards and five downs for Shoshone.

Highland Drops T.F. 25-19 for First Loop Win in Ram History

POCATELLO (AP)—The Highland High Rams scored a 25-19 homecoming football victory over the Twin Falls Bruins Friday night. The Ram win marked the first Southern Idaho Conference win in the history of the school. The Rams held the Bruins scoreless the first half while racking up 19 points. Big gun on the Highland offense was halfback Steve Bark. Bark ran for 90 yards in the first half, and came back to grind out 86 more in the second.

The Twin Falls touchdowns started late in the third stanza when sharpshooting quarterback David McCollum hit halfback David Turner in the flat with a pass good for eight yards and a touchdown.

McCollum came back with a hand off to Doug Flint from the Twin Falls 22-yard line and Flint went 78 yards for the score.

In an effort to catch up, McCollum went to the air and hit a touchdown of the game. The Rams grounded the ball to wind pass which set up a bomb from

Patterson May Retire After Bout With Clay

MARLBORO, N.Y. (UPI) — Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson admits he might retire after his Nov. 22 title fight with Cassius Clay whether he wins or loses.

"I will retire very, very shortly," said the 30-year-old Patterson at the isolated lodge where he trains. "I probably will quit if I lose and I might quit even if I win."

Being torn away from his family for the rigorous weekend training sessions at the weather-beaten old Catskill lodge is made bearable by an overwhelming determination to recapture the title again.

Indian Defense Makes First Half Score Stand up

RUPERT—Buhl's fired-up Indians struck for a touchdown and conversion in the second quarter Friday night and went on to nip the previously unbeaten and ninth-ranked Minico Spartans 7-6. The Indians, evening up their record at 2-2-1, scored on a fourth and 12 pass play and then sent Willard in for the decisive point after. Minico threatened three times after that but scored only once.

The Spartans took the opening kickoff and ground down to the 10-yard line before being hurled back. Buhl took it and returned it 60 yards, a 15-yard penalty overcoming one fourth-down situation.

After getting a first-down inside the 10, Buhl was pushed back. On fourth down Dave Hixbee found Robb 14th open for the touchdown.

Buhl kept Minico off the scoreboard until the third quarter when the Spartans again penetrated the Indian 10-yard line before being stopped. But the Indians fumbled the ball back on the eight-yard line and two plays later Jim Whitley quarterback sneaked for the Spartans' only points. Buhl arose to stop Tom Pondexter on the try for extra point.

Until Campbell's romp to the four, which set up Ron Rector's three-yard scoring dash, it appeared the hard-running Beavers, led by fullback Dave Pifer's bruising ground attack, would score a 7-6 triumph.

Shortly after Rector put the Wildcats ahead 12-7, Oregon State recovered a fumbled punt on the Northwestern 21. On a fourth-and-two play, Fred Schwere was stopped one inch short of a first down on the Northwestern 11.

Late in the period, Tom Garrettson intercepted a desperation pass by Paul Brothers to set up Dickie's field goal.

Owens, Bell Pace Wood River Victory

KIMBERLY — Wood River took a 7-6 edge in the first half Friday night and then, paced by Robbie Bell and Kirby Owens, ripped the game wide open in the second for a 27-6 victory over the Kimberly Bulldogs.

Bell scored one of his two touchdowns late in the second quarter on an 11-yard run off tackle. Louie Hurst followed with his first conversion kick and the Wolverines were in the lead to stay.

Owens went 65-yards early in the third followed by a short plunge later in the quarter by Bell and a conversion by Hurst to make it 20-6.

Little John Sabala concluded the Wolverine scoring in the fourth following a 63-yard run by Fred Gray. Hurst added the conversion.

Kimberly's lone score came in the first quarter after Scott Stradley recovered a fumble on the Wood River 40. The Bulldogs moved up to the 26 on a Eric guard penalty and Larry Eller shot a pass to Jim Denton waiting on the 10 and he went over for the score.

Junior guard Johnny Cooley provided the Bulldogs with the spark they needed when, in the third quarter with Georgia trailing 9-6, he blocked a punt by Tiger kicker Don Harbick. The ball bounced back over Clemson's goal where it was recovered by Georgia end Larry Kohn for a touchdown.

The fired-up Georgia team came roaring back a few minutes later, moving 45 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown. Fullback Ronnie Jenkins plunged across from the three, and Bob Etter kicked his second conversion of the day.

Woodson Guides Utes to 42-3 Wyoming Upset

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Scrappy 5-foot-11 halfback Ben Woodson scored four Utah touchdowns—two on Wyoming fumbles—as Utah upset the Cowboys 42-3 in a Western Athletic Conference football game. Woodson's driving guins sparked the Utes to their first win over Wyoming in eight years and marked his return from a half season of sickness.

Hornets Drop Hansen, Stay In Loop Race

DECILO — Decilo's Hornets stayed in the thick of the Magic Valley Conference title race, dropping scrappy Hansen 8-0 Friday afternoon.

The Hornets could muster only one drive against the lighter Huskies and the touchdown came after Decilo twice fumbled with the ball. The Hornets, after getting a first down at the five-yard line, fumbled on the next two plays but managed to cover their own mistakes. Finally Jon Goodman put the ball in the end zone.

A booming Goodman punt, which landed on the Hansen three-yard line, set up the safety. The Huskies tried once up the middle for no gain then gambled on a wide play. Nelson Richardson, a 130-pound corner line-backer, broke through to smear the runner in the end zone.

Cranney-Led Oakley Edges Rockland 6-0

ROCKLAND — A 43-yard scoring pass marked the only difference Friday afternoon as the Oakley Hornets blanked Rockland 6-0.

The scoring pass came in the second quarter when junior Dan Cranney found Rusty Washburn wide open.

Rockland threatened in the third quarter, establishing a first and goal at the Oakley seven-yard line. Three plays netted nothing and on the fourth Washburn intercepted a pass in the end zone to kill the drive.

Oakley came back with a pair of threats later and had one pass dropped in the end zone. Cranney ended the day with 18 completions in 37 pass attempts and 10 for 14 in the final two periods.

Winslow and Garrett Pace USC Victory

SEATTLE (AP) — With Mike Garrett stomping out 175 yards and Troy Winslow deftly guiding the devastating attack, the Trojan horde of Southern California crushed a hapless Washington football team 34-0 Saturday in the victim's own stadium.

This was the second Pacific Athletic Conference victory for the stout men of Troy and triply sweet because it was the first in Southern Cal's last three meetings with the Huskies of the North.

As good as his word, Trojan Coach John McKay took Garrett out of the game in the third quarter after the weary blaster had carried the ball 31 times. McKay had said Garrett would not be called upon to match his record of 33 carries.

Washington never looked like a contender. The Huskies were in Trojan territory once in each half. They recovered a fumble on the Troy 20 in the first quarter and hammered down to the Trojan 1 in the final 50 seconds with reserve in action for long clubs.

Vi Smith Is Women's Fall Golf Victor

Vi Smith scored a 3 and 2 victory over Shirley Sraughn Saturday to win the championship flight trophy in the women's fall handicap tournament at the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course.

A 5 and 4 victory over Louise Hatch gave Ruth Priest first flight honors and Fran Threlkeld took the second flight with a 3 and 2 win over Ruth Mishler. Championship Consolation was taken by Hazel Clawson, who beat Pat Williams 3 and 4. Velma Parkin defeated Florence Dwyer 1 up on the 20th hole for the first flight consolation and Erva Bower defeated Irene Dockstader 6 and 5 in second flight consolation play.

Lena Marshall won the beginners flight when she dropped Laura Newcomb up after 10 and Betty Mahler beat L. Graham 3 and 2 for the consolation.

Devils Use Fumble, Bomb To Tip Wolves

CASTLEFORD — Murtaugh's Red Devils checked on a 53-yard scoring pass and converted a fumble into a touchdown Friday afternoon to drop the Castleford Wolves 12-0.

Murtaugh got its big break seconds after the opening fumble off when the Wolves fumbled and Paul Morgan recovered on the Wolf 11-yard line. Two plays later Mark Cummins skirted end to get the touchdown on a nine-yard sprint but Castleford arose to stop the conversion run.

The Wolves, after fumbling again in their own territory but this time holding, started a long march keyed on the quarterback sneaking of Marvin Alfred. But at the 23-yard line Murtaugh halted the march. At half-time Murtaugh led 6-0 and didn't have a first down.

The second half was battled out between the 30-yard lines the biggest play being a 53-yard scoring pass from Jim Hepworth to sophomore Bill Nebeker, who took the ball away from two men and romped in Nebeker and end Ron Anderson provided the key to Murtaugh's defense by preventing Castleford from getting outside where Alfred and Nolan Carter work at their best.

Week Late

One week ago a hole-in-one at the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course would have been worth $500, but it was still a thrill for Garid Strandlee and Billman Stanger as they both picked up their first aces on the No. 9 hole.

Strandlee ached his with a four iron while being watched by Duane Snyder and Dan Long. Stanger used a six iron on the 10-yard hole as Jeff Hugginbotham and Tom Schiermeier witnessed the event.

Montana Wins in Cross Country

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Montana's Doug Brown set a new course record Saturday as he led his team to a 26-29 Skyline Conference cross country victory over Weber State.

Brown's time over the three-mile course was 13 minutes 41.9 seconds. Fred Frieze, also of Montana, was second in 14:42, and Weber State's Dale Stagg was third in 15:03.

Indians Nip Oregon in Last Seconds

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — With 1:17 left in the game, Dave Lewis passed 14 yards to tackle Ferguson Flanagan and gave Stanford a 17-14 victory over Oregon Saturday in the first Pacific Athletic Conference game for both teams.

A pass interference penalty gave the winning Indians their scoring chance just as the same defeated Oregon Ducks their opportunity for the touchdown that put them ahead 14-10 early in the final quarter.

The break for Stanford came on fourth down and 15 to go for a first down. The interference call gave the Indians a first down on the Oregon nine-yard line.

On second down, Lewis passed right into Mike Connelly's chest but the end dropped the ball. On the next try, Lewis hit Flanagan, open on a tackle eligible formation, for the winning touchdown. Both Stanford touchdowns came on tackle eligible passes.

Terry DeSylvia kicked his second conversion. He had booted a 19-yard field goal which put Stanford ahead 10-7 early in the third quarter.

Palmer's Eagle Lets U.S. Take Ryder Cup

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer smacked a No. 3 wood 250 yards on the last hole of the Ryder Cup Birkdale links Saturday and converted it into an eagle that destroyed Great Britain in the 1965 Ryder Cup championship. The Ladbroke, Pa., veteran sank Peter Butler of England with that shot and it was the match that put the 38-year-old trophy again out of reach of the best British golf professionals.

The groups of the crowd of 15,000 included one slight look of dismay from Prime Minister Harold Wilson himself, who took a day off to watch the final of the three-day competition, the best in pro match play.

The Americans, who now have won the Ryder Cup 13 times in 16 tries, went into the last 16 singles matches with a narrow 9-7 lead compiled in Thursday and Friday's four-some play.

They won five matches out of eight singles Saturday morning, lost two and halved one. Then in bright afternoon sun, they clobbered the 7,037-yard, par-73 Birkdale links to win another five matches while the British won but three.

The final score was U.S. 10½, Great Britain 12½.

During the day's torrid play, Palmer, Tony Lenon of San Leandro, Calif.; Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N.C.; and Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., each won two matches.

Grant Guides Harvard Victory

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Senior halfback Wally Grant scored on long and short runs down runs Saturday to lead his team to a 21-6 victory over the Ivy League test.

The victory, Harvard's first in Ivy League competition, marked the first time since 1946 that the Crimson had won three opening three games. It was a third defeat in as many games for the Lions, now 0-2 in Ivy League play.

A.A. TOPS TWINS FOR FIRST SERIES WIN

Steen Succeeds Where Koufax, Drysdale Failed; Roseboro Has Two RBI

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Claude Steen, bottom man of the Dodgers' big three, pitched Saturday where Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale failed and pitched to his first World Series victory 4-0 over the Minnesota Twins. The former American League left-hander who never lost to the Twins in his days with Washington, carried his

Trojans Hand 20-0 Setback To Hagerman

WENDELL — A pair of marches and a long scoring drive got all the points for the Wendell Trojans Friday night as they handed the Hagerman Pirates 20-0 in a hard-hitting non-conference battle.

Wendell broke a scoreless duel on the final play of the half when Bill Brunzel and Larry Bay hooked up on a 62-yard scoring pass.

In the third quarter Wendell went 47 yards in five plays, the key being a 35-yard sprint by Ron Adams. Two plays later Brunzel hit Jim King for the final four yards and Randy Neffinger booted the point-after.

Hagerman replied with its best effort of the night, marching 58 yards in nine plays before Wendell stiffened and held at the 11-yard line. After trading punts Wendell went marching again in the fourth period, moving 62 yards in 10 plays. The biggest run, a 14-yarder by Adams, also got the touchdown.

Hagerman's last chance came in the closing minutes when it recovered a fumble at the Wendell 14-yard line. The Trojans stopped them at the five as the final gun sounded.

Cornhuskers Rout Badgers Behind Duda

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Fred Duda celebrated his promotion to first string quarterback Saturday by leading Nebraska's second-ranked Cornhuskers to a 37-0 football rout of Wisconsin.

The 5-10 senior, back in form after missing most of last year's play because of a broken leg, galloped 59 yards for one touchdown and threw a 28-yard pass to halfback Frank Solich for another.

The victory was the fourth straight for the defending Big Eight champs. Wisconsin owns a 1-2 record.

Nebraska seized on Wisconsin miscues and rattled the Badger defenders with long ground gainers in overpowering the Big Ten team.

Wisconsin's sophomore quarterback, Chuck Bart, third ranking passer nationally going into the game, unloaded a barrage of throws, but the Badgers were held to a net of 88 yards by air and 55 on the ground.

Arizona Is Upset Victim Of Lobos

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Surprising New Mexico scored 17 points in the final period to upset Arizona 24-2 and climb into a tie with Brigham Young University for the football lead in the Western Athletic Conference Saturday night.

Carl Bradford, a junior tailback, sped 57 yards in the final period for one score. Bradford was the workhorse for the Lobos in the second half. He dashed 29 yards to put the ball on the Arizona 25 and set up a 20-yard field goal by Mickey Williams after a New Mexico drive stalled on the Arizona four.

Carl Jeter, a senior guard, blocked an Arizona punt on the 15-yard line and end Frank Meza picked it up and ran 10 yards to score.

Penn State Tips Boston College

BOSTON (UPI) — Favored Penn State scrambled to a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns Saturday to break a two-game losing streak on a 17-0 victory over Boston College.

The Nittany Lions had made sophomore Tom Sherman's first collegiate field goal standup from the opening quarter before scoring twice in the dying minutes by converting a short Boston College punt and a fumbled kickoff.

Gators' Air Attack Drops Rebels 17-0

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Florida's awesome aerial attack sank once-powerful Mississippi deeper into the Southeastern conference cellar Saturday as the 10-ranked Gators thrashed the Rebels 17-0.

Fantastic catches by Florida ends Charles Casey and Barry Brown made Gator southpaw quarterback Steve Spurrier look tremendous throughout the afternoon and spoil homecoming for Ole Miss fans.

And Florida's fierce eight-man defensive forward wall kept Ole Miss' offense sputtering, and neither senior quarterback Jimmy Heide nor his sophomore understudy, Carroll Walker, could make it tick.

It was the third straight defeat this season for Ole Miss and the first time the Rebels have ever lost three in a row under John Vaught, who became head coach 18 years ago.

UCLA Hands 24-14 Upset To Syracuse

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA stunned Syracuse with two touchdowns in the first 3:05 of their intercollegiate football game Saturday night and went on to upset the Orangemen, 24-14, before 27,729 in Memorial Coliseum.

Syracuse mounted drives of 53 and 67 yards to score twice in the final quarter, the last touchdown with 28 seconds remaining, to lose to the Bruins for the first time in their six meetings.

UCLA scored on the first two plays from scrimmage. They recovered a fumble by Mike Kosari on the Syracuse 27 and sophomore quarterback Gary Beban rolled to his right for 27 yards and the score. The time was 51 seconds.

Moments later, after Syracuse burst connected on a 79-yard pass, Altemberg hauled in the ball of the Syracuse 45 and ran untouched for the score.

Spartans Rout Michigan for Four in Row

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Michigan State turned two first half Michigan miscues into nine points and went on to rout the defending Big Ten champion Wolverines 24-7 Saturday.

It was the fourth straight victory for the Spartans, who held Michigan's vaunted running game to a minus 39 yards.

Dick Kenney's 20-yard field goal late in the second quarter put Michigan State ahead for keeps, before a crowd of 103,219.

Rival quarterbacks Steve Judy of Michigan State and Walby Gable of Michigan exchanged one-yard scoring plunges in the first half.

Clint Jones moved MSU forward with a 10-yard driving run in the third quarter and Kenney added a 35-yard field goal with a little more than two minutes remaining.

Rich Apisa raced 39 yards for Michigan State's final touchdown with only three seconds left.

Late Scores Let WSU Nip Villanova

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Washington State stormed from behind with two touchdowns in 59 seconds and defeated Villanova 24-14 here Saturday in an intercollegiate football game.

The Cougars regained the lead they had held most of the game on a 78-yard pass play from quarterback Tom Roth to halfback Bob Simpson with barely two minutes left in the game.

Two plays later, Willie Gaskins intercepted a Villanova pass and ran 41 yards for the insurance touchdown.

Washington State fullback Larry Elmes sparked the Cougars, scoring one touchdown on a 22-yard run and establishing a school rushing record with 194 yards in 24 carries.

Neither team could muster much offense in the first half, and the only scoring was Ted Gerela's 32-yard field goal about half way through the second period.

But the Cougars got down to business when the second half began. Halfback T. C. McClellan carried 23 yards on the first play from scrimmage and Elmes added 10 yards on the next play. The Cougars drove 75 yards in eight plays and Elmes capped the drive with his touchdown.

Salt Lake May Lose Baseball

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Salt Lake City Bees, last place finishers in the 1965 Pacific Coast League scramble, are dead unless a new angle appears to guarantee the tab for future losses.

A decision to pull out of the PCL and end a working agreement with the Chicago Cubs was announced late yesterday by directors of the Salt Lake City Baseball Corp.

Enid Cowgill, president and general manager, said the board met on Oct. 20 deadline to receive proposals from individuals or groups interested in operating the ball club on the basis of guaranteeing any losses in the future. She cited lack of interest and mounting financial losses as reasons for putting the franchise up for sale.

Burley Posts 27-19 Victory Over Tigers

MOUNTAIN HOME (AP) — The Burley Bobcats posted a 27-19 win over the Mountain Home Tigers on the Elmore squad's home field Friday night.

Burley spread out its scoring, hitting in each stanza for seven — except the third when they picked-up six.

The Bobcats started things out early in the game with Gordon Hanks marching in from the field for the score.

Darrell Edwards plunged in from the end for the Tigers initial score. Quarterback Dave Miller hit Phil Gridley on a 28-

Beats Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI) — Junior quarterback Tim Van Gilder ran for one touchdown, passed for another and set up a third Saturday to lead the Iowa State Cyclones to a 21-7 victory over Kansas in a Big Eight conference game.

He had put the Cyclones in scoring position with a 44-yard aerial to a halfback Tom Busch two plays earlier.

saved scoring pass for the second Mountain Home score.

Hanks then went in for Burley to make it 14-13. The final score of the half came on a 24-yard pass from Miller to Gridley.

The final half saw Burley tack on two touchdowns on runs of 54 and four yards.

Death Takes C. E. Simper

OAKLEY — Clement Ernest Simper, 67, died Saturday at Gooding Memorial Hospital of a short illness.

He was born Oct. 24, 1897, at Murray, Utah. He married Della Tracy June 25, 1930, at Salt Lake City. LDS Temple. He was a rancher and stockman in Lynn, Utah, area and was a member of the LDS Church.

Surviving besides his widow are a son, Ardel E. Simper, Lynn, Utah; two daughters, Mrs. Beth Jensen, Burley, and Mrs. Dorothy Bradford, Lynn; three brothers, Jam Simper, Logan; Glenn Simper, Salt Lake City; and Grant Simper, Perry, Utah; five sisters, Mrs. Stella Peterson, Heyburn; Mrs. Luella Nelson, Lynn, Utah; Mrs. Cora Olsen, Brigham City; Mrs. Elias Hywater, Bear River, Utah; and Mrs. Leona Clark, Tremonton, Utah, and five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at McCulloch Funeral Chapel, Burley, by Bishop Charles D. Lind. Final rites will be held at Yost, Utah, cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel Monday afternoon and evening and until time of services Tuesday.

THE OLD HOTEL building constructed in the 1920's at Yellowjacket never officially opened when a promotion plan to reopen the old gold mine there failed. The structure, containing rooms for some 80 to 90 miners, was abandoned and stands in disuse today west of the city of Salmon. (Times-News photo)

Hotel Stands In Disuse Near Salmon

SALMON — A five-story hotel which never officially opened still stands in disuse today in the Yellowjacket country west of Salmon.

The hotel, built in the 1920's to house miners, was part of a venture to reopen the Yellowjacket mine. But the promotion never was completed.

The structure, costing thousands of dollars, contained an office and lobby, cooking facilities, dining room and meeting place on the first floor. Rooms were available for 80 to 90 persons.

The Yellowjacket district produced the peak of its gold around the turn of the century. An old mill building also stands abandoned today beside the Yellowjacket road. Just beyond is the now crumbling hotel structure.

The search for gold continues in the Yellowjacket country today but on a minor scale.

Regional Library Workshop Slated Oct. 23 in Gooding

GOODING — A regional library workshop for trustees, librarians and citizens, will be held Oct. 23 in Gooding, reports State Librarian Miss Helen M. Miller.

The Public Library will be the local host. Workshop participants representing libraries from throughout the region will be able to see a recent or proposed library construction project.

A premier showing of the film "Idaho Libraries Today" will be a special feature of each workshop. This 16mm sound and color movie has just been completed by film producer George O. Smith of Film Originals, Boise.

The film shows many Idaho libraries, and encourages coordinated action for the development of better public library services. After the workshop, the film will be available from the Idaho State Library, for showing by public libraries and community groups.

Clara Settemire, chief librarian of the Boulder, Colorado, Public Library, will be consultant and luncheon speaker for the workshops. Settemire has a B.S. from Arkansas State College, and both B.S. and M.S. in Library Science from George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

Before moving to Boulder, he was chief librarian at Roanoke, Va., and at Hutchinson, Kan. He has been a reference librarian and instructor in library science at Fort Hays State College, Kan.; audio-visual director of the Nashville-Public Library; music librarian at the Fort Wayne, Ind., Public Library.

Settemire also has taught courses in library science at the Graduate School of Librarianship, University of Denver, and at George Peabody College. He has been a surveyor of library services at Grand Junction, Colorado, and at Cheyenne, Wyo.

The Idaho State Library, and the Idaho Library Association, are co-sponsors of these annual workshops, also to be held in six other Idaho towns. The State Librarian, Miss Miller, and members of the State Library staff and Board of Trustees will attend each workshop and participate in the programs.

The workshops will begin at 9 a.m. and adjourn at 4 p.m. The morning session will consider the library trustee's responsibility for establishing library policy, with trustees from each region presenting a panel discussion. The afternoon session will include the showing of the new film, and a report on state-wide library development. Each library board chairman will report on local library progress and plans.

All workshops are open to members of the public. The librarian of the host library may be contacted for luncheon reservations.

Heiress' Life Changed by Marriage

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Mamie Reynolds, 23, an heiress to a mining fortune, revealed Saturday a secret marriage and said it's made some changes in her life.

For instance, she now shares a modest bungalow with 25 dogs and a husband who won't let her spend more than $10 a week.

She buys her clothes on sale and got married in a $5-bargain that "just looks terrific on me," Mamie, a tall, golden blonde whose family once owned the Hope Diamond, was married Sept. 14 in Juarez, Mexico, to Joe Gregory, 39, Louisville, Ky., one of the nation's top handlers of show dogs.

She was divorced the same day from Luigi Chinetti, Italian race car driver whom she married in 1963.

"The word was kind of getting around," Mamie said. So she and Gregory, crew cut, muscular former high school basketball player, decided to reveal their marriage while in Pittsburgh for a dog show.

She said the marriage was kept a secret partly for the same reason their courtship started—because of a dog.

"I was afraid if people knew about it it might have something to do with winning or not winning in shows," she said.

The dog in question is a chow named "Champion Lakewood's Ham Sun," which Gregory trained for her four months ago. She said she actually met Gregory, who has never been married, six years ago when she presented him a trophy in a show in her home town of Asheville, N.C.

Mamie is the daughter of the late U.S. Sen. Robert Reynolds, who was known to North Carolina Democrats for years as "Our Bob." He died in 1963 of a heart attack.

Her mother was the late Evelyn McLean Reynolds, the senator's fifth wife, who died in 1961. Mamie inherited more than a million from the Reynolds estate when she turned 21.

She said the McLean family was made in gold mining in Colorado and was "the best" who owned the Hope Diamond. "I guess I just don't know much there is. It's probably worth $10 and $50 million," said.

Mamie rather likes to limit her husband's "her weekly spending."

"It's not for groceries things. I have to buy my own clothes with it, but I spend more than $10 for anything before this was my limit. Before this I was what she called 'the heiress'."

Like vacationing shows or yachts.

A couple of weeks ago she plunked down $50,000 for a boat.

"We're going in a boat, Nassau (Bahamas) to St. John and I thought it would go on our own boat instead of ship or something," said.

It was the day she bought the boat, she said she ran across the $50,000 dress.

Mediators See End to Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mediators held special Saturday in their attempt to end the week-long strike that has slowed work on nearly $1 billion construction projects.

Major construction projects in California, Washington, Arizona, Idaho and Utah have been shut down by pickets.

That would give Idaho government and taxpayers an opportunity "to appraise our new plateau effected by the last legislature."

PTA to Meet

RICHFIELD — Budget hearing, project approval, and plans for the annual Halloween carnival will be principal business of the Richfield PTA at the Oct. 21 meeting to be held at the high school.

Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr. and Mrs. Louis Vaughn were named to purchase carnival prizes. Booths will be in charge of room mothers. The carnival tentatively is set for Oct. 20 as Halloween falls on Sunday. Members of the executive board will be in charge of serving food.

Reception Set

HAILEY — A teachers' reception will highlight the first meeting of the year for the Wood River High School PTA at 8 p.m. Monday, reports John Irwin, Ketchum, president.

The meeting will be held in the school study hall and refreshments will be served. A 15-minute question period will be initiated Monday night and is planned for each meeting. Parents may present questions to teachers in an effort to strengthen parent-teacher relationship.

Prolific Vardis Fisher Living Out Life Span In Peaceful Idaho Valley

BY G. A. (GUS) KEIKER
Times-News Feature Editor

HAGERMAN—The Idaho is a controversial state, the man in fact, the man might be said to be a little on the timid side. What makes him appear so aggressive is that he just doesn't want to be pushed around.

The image is one that seeks an argument. The man, is one of the nation's leading contemporary authors, Vardis Fisher.

Actually the image description is right. The author describes the image conception is that of a man, who for 26 years has lived in this peaceful Idaho valley, is a prolific writer on the subject. This attribute alone is a lead to deep water now of them.

Talking with Vardis Fisher in one of a play of words, and more of a contemplated discussion on any one subject. You get to keep ahead of him and, with consistent vigilance, he is not always possible. He is saying one thing while he is looking of a way to phrase the thought he will throw at you.

And yet it was pleasant. It was pleasant for several reasons. One was that the day was a warm one, a typical fall afternoon in Hagerman Valley. Second was the fact the company was congenial.

Fisher's wife, Opal, with the sharp, chisled features of a party is set.

It will be the first time he ever did anything quite like it.

Vardis Fisher has consented to attend an autograph party which will mark publication of his latest novel, "Mountain Man."

The Idaho-born and famous author will be guest at Sallie's Book Store, Lynwood Shopping Center, Twin Falls, on Oct. 30. Arrangements for this "first" in the life of Fisher were made by Mrs. Richard Turner, owner of the business.

Community Children's Theater Set to Play "Reluctant Dragon" for Children, Adults

The curtain at the O'Leary Junior High School Auditorium will rise Saturday on "The Reluctant Dragon," the fall production of Magic Valley's award-winning Community Children's Theatre.

The play's language is simple enough for children, too, according to Mrs. Dale Patterson, publicity director for the play.

"Aesop's fables, nursery rhymes, Mary Poppins—parables of all ages have offered glimpses into human nature or poked fun at kings. Their story-book language was loved by children and understood by their parents. Simple language is often the best," she said.

"We want to share this entertainment with the adults, too," she said. "Our slogan is 'Don't send your children—but share in their fun.'"

The Community Children's Theatre recently was presented the Zeta Phi Eta Award at the National Children's Theatre Conference. The award is given to one outstanding new producing group in the United States each year, which not only has presented high-quality productions, but also has established a sound organization which shows promise of continuing growth," the award committee said.

This fall's fast-moving production features a dragon that is unlike other fire-breathing, damsel-capturing dragons. He is timid and sensitive.

"I like to eat regularly, then lean back and snore a bit, then even write a little poetry," the dragon tells his young friend Jon. Jon himself is a proto-intellectual who reads enough to know that some dragons are exceptions.

Jon hates to disobey his parents' orders to stay at home, but he "must find out if this one is friendly or not before the countryside becomes all alarmed."

As Jon expected, the villagers have fabricated tales of damage the dragon has done and the people he has eaten, because, as the dragon says, "most folks aren't peacable to something strange. They don't understand it and think it must be evil."

The villagers call in the expert—St. George, a put-upon public servant who feels obligated to kill the dragon because it is expected of him, and because the people wish the dragon killed.

After Jon tells St. George of his mistake, he replies:

"Perhaps I have misjudged him. But what am I to do? The dragon and I are expected to be thirsting for each other's blood. I don't see any way out... Can you arrange things, somehow?"

"You could just leave," Jon suggests sensibly.

"Oh, no. Couldn't do that. Quite against the rules, you know," St. George replies.

And so goes the fun-filled but pointed dialogue.

Mrs. Eugene H. Sturgill, Twin Falls, director of the theatre group, expressed satisfaction with George Fespate's adaptation of the earlier story by Kenneth Grahame.

"This is a family play," Mrs. Sturgill said. "Our adult attendance has been rising rapidly since our first productions, and with 'The Reluctant Dragon' we should get more parents than ever."

Despite its appeal to adults, she said, "children from Jerome, Buhl, Gooding, Hailey, Sun Valley and Carey have become audiences. Last year, 1,700 children were bused in to the productions."

The Community Children's Theatre was founded in August, 1962. Since then six plays have been presented, including "Tom Sawyer," "Rumpelstiltskin" and "Aladdin," the most recent.

Since the opening venture, attendance has tripled and the number of performances has been doubled, Mrs. Sturgill said.

Heading up the cast is Mike Sturgill, Twin Falls, playing the dragon's friend Jon, and Bruce Fox, also Twin Falls, playing St. George. The dragon is played by... the dragon himself, according to Mrs. Patterson.

Jon's fretting, overprotective mother, who carries her mop everywhere at the risk of tripping even the anti-heroic St. George, is played by Helen Gee, Twin Falls. Gene Ritchie, Twin Falls, plays the part of Jon's concerned father, Aelfric. And Jon's friend Ulrich is played by Joe VanLeeuwen, Twin Falls.

Backstage, aside from Director Sturgill, are Mrs. Willa Dean Nielsen, Twin Falls, choreography; Frank Bliessner, Salt Lake City, costume design and scenery chairman; Del VanOrden, Twin Falls, lighting engineer, and Mrs. Jack Logan, makeup.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lambert designed and constructed the dragon, whose eyes open and close, whose head swings from side to side, and who speaks (Continued on Page 26)

Traffic will be rerouted to permit the race to be run safely. (Times-News photo)

Celestial Show

NEW YORK (UPI) — A comet just becoming visible to the naked eye is expected to provide "the most spectacular celestial show at the century" by Oct. 21, a noted astronomer reports.

Dr. Thomas D. Nicholson, chairman of the Hayden Planetarium, said the Ikeya-Seki Comet, discovered Sept. 18, is similar to the Great Comet of 1882 which startled the world with its brilliance.

Student Gets Murder Idea From Novel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police have charged a college freshman with killing two men after allegedly getting the idea from a novel by the late French author Albert Camus.

Wayne Welch, 18, philosophy major at suburban Cerritos Junior College, was arraigned Friday on a murder charge in connection with the deaths Aug. 32 of Alejandro Lopez Montez, 57, and John M. Kimball, 51.

The victims, employees of a trucking firm for which Welch worked part time to pay college expenses, were shot to death with a hunting rifle near the firm's loading dock.

Lt. Earl A. Deemer, chief of detectives at Newton Street police station, said Welch, of suburban Downey, told him he found a pattern for the shooting in Camus' "The Stranger."

Officers said they borrowed a copy of the book from the public library and found an account of a slaying of a man by a gunman on a lonely bench and the slayer's guilt feelings afterward — on the pages Welch had indicated.

The novel was required reading for one of Welch's college courses, officers said.

Deemer quoted Welch as saying he did not know the victims, but had selected them at random to try out the slaying depicted in the novel.

Deemer quoted Welch as saying he was "tired of the game" and admitted the slaying.

Today's Cub Scout "Cubmobile Derby" Will Test Boys', Fathers' Race Cars

Snug in the cockpits of their brightly colored racing cars, safety belts fastened, their eyes on the starter's flag, the Cub Scouts of Pack 89 will await the signal that will begin the 1965 Cubmobile Derby.

Today at 2 p.m. that signal will be given and the Cub Scouts will be off, coasting downhill two miles east and one-half mile north of the corner of Blue Lakes North and Falls Avenue near Twin Falls.

This will be the final competition between the 21 boys who have been working months building their gravity-propelled racers. Earlier races have been held, but this is the big one.

According to Mrs. E. B. Dehoney, Twin Falls den mother, of den four of the pack, said that the idea of a Cubmobile Derby grew out of the successful "Pinewood Derbies." These earlier races were held between model cars the Cubs had whittled, and gave much vicarious pleasure.

Mrs. Dehoney said that it became obvious that if such a good time resulted from the models, "then how much fun could be had with a genuine race with real cars."

The Cub Scouts have little in common with the traditional soapbox. They are built to conform to rigid specifications. For example, the wheels must be no larger than 10 inches high, and cannot use ball-bearings.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Perhaps one of the largest and most interesting collections of salt and pepper shakers in the Magic Valley belongs to Mrs. Otis Fries, D.C.T.O. Mrs. Fries started her collection in 1941 when she and her husband made a trip to California and several other states. They collected shakers from practically every state as well as Hawaii, Mexico, England, Germany and other countries.

She has sets of almost every size and description from apples to zebras. Miniature and large, flower, bell, toys, lawn, hand-carved Indians, and many, many others are housed in a unique china closet, which was purchased from G. A. Albee of the former Normal School in ALBION.

Fries added shelves and put the top of the china closet to make additional room for the growing collection.

One of her most cherished pairs is one that belonged to her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Cahoon, who died when Mrs. Fries was just 14 years old. The pair was just 14 years old. The pair was just 14 years old.

Others of her most treasured sets were given to her by her son, Don, who has since died. Apparently Mrs. Fries has passed on her interest to her daughter, Mrs. Gene Waggoner, Boise, as she also is interested in collecting and boasts of a large and growing sugar and creamer collection.

National Dog Week was observed in RICHFIELD by one couple who crowned their dog "King of Richfield." The dog, Prince, wore his crown in the Richfield Hardware store of his owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon.

The dog rose to his high position from childhood in the short period of one year. Previously he had been a tramp dog making his daily rounds for a handout. Forlorn and woe-

Plane Over Pacific Has Bomb Scare

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Honolulu-bound plane was 35 hours out of Los Angeles — the point of no return — when there might be a bomb aboard.

Passengers on Pan-American Airways flight 82 were asked: Did anyone pay you to carry a package aboard this plane?

All answered, "No," and the plane landed safely in Honolulu Thursday.

This vignette of terror was disclosed Friday as Robert Y. Katsuyoshi, 47, of Los Angeles, appeared before a U.S. commissioner on a charge of threatening to bomb a plane.

Authorities said Katsuyoshi telephoned to say he had paid someone to take a package containing the bomb aboard the plane. FBI agents arrested him Thursday night.

They said the former shipper clerk supplied no motive for his actions. A search of the plane after it landed failed to reveal a bomb.

Steven Rathke Honored at Rites

HAILEY—Funeral services for Steven Rathke were conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Wood River High School auditorium by Rev. Eric Jungbauer, pastor of the Hailey Community Church.

Mrs. Frank Gelskey was soloist and Mrs. C. E. Arndt accompanied her on the organ and played the background music. Fred Gray and Stanley Bird were ushers. Mary Dietrich was in charge of the memory book.

Members of the 1965 graduating class from the Wood River High School were honorary pallbearers. Active pallbearers were Michael Potter, Steven Rayborn, Ramon McGraw, Don McCoy, Don Board and Gary Peck.

Last rites were held in the Hailey cemetery.

In the right place for Fisher. He can put out his hand in any direction and what he is looking for in the way of information for an article or a book is within reach.

Words flow from his typewriter by the thousands. He writes weekly columns for nearly a dozen weekly newspapers. Right now he's working on another book, even before the last one is released to the public.

But he has arrived. This has been the subject of more articles than he has written himself.

Many doctorates have been gained by using Vardis Fisher as the subject.

Fisher is the first to admit that all things mellow with age and this his life is no exception. He was 12 before he even entered a school, but he took his A.B. at the University of Utah and his A.M. and Ph.D. at the University of Chicago. He has taught in a number of universities.

Now all that is past. He lives there ever was one.

Florists' Association Convention Features Well-Known Designers' Art

SUN VALLEY — Flowers in profusion typify Sun Valley any time of year. During the summer months the grounds are a mass of color from the many beds, which bloom continuously. But in the winter the blossoms are confined to the indoors.

This week, however, additional flowers flowed into the resort by the van-load for the third annual Convention of the Northwest Florists' Association.

Most of the flowers for the convention were used in the two design schools held at the Opera House. These were mostly roses, carnations, gladioli, chrysanthemums and stephanotis. Foliages were salad, leather leaf fern, huckleberry, ti leaves, eucalyptus, plumosis, philodendrum, pressed cedar and holly. The design school was conducted under the direction of Daryl Dryden, Twin Falls, school chairman.

Nationally known artists, Denn Grammen, Chicago; Candido Garcia of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mary Jo Napier, of Atlanta, Ga., and Maude Howard of Salt Lake City, used the flowers to demonstrate original arrangements which have won acclaim throughout the country.

Nationally known designer Weber MacFarland of Cary and Raleigh, N.C., was commentator for the school. MacFarland travels thousands of miles each year to participate in outstanding events throughout Canada and the United States. He has been of color," he said. "Today there is an upswing in American vision, and florists are following the trend by incorporating more color and drama into their designs."

MacFarland said one of the greatest innovations now used by the florist industry is foam material.

Oasis foam becomes 40 times heavier when immersed in water, which it holds for stems inserted into it to drink.

"Oasis is really a non-spillable water," he said, "and is as easy for the beginner to use as it is for the professional."

As he held up a sophisticated wedding bouquet designed by Grammen for the audience to see, he remarked, "Wedding work has really taken on a simple look of elegance. The bouquets are not too large and the flowers and foliage are combined with interest."

"The breath of feeling of the seasons is reflected in such bouquets, exemplifying the golden fall, the extreme brightness of the holiday season, the soft, muted tones of spring, and the brilliant yellows of summer."

MacFarland continued, "I don't think anyone should ever be afraid to attempt something new and different in floral designing. This I feel, should apply not only to the established professional florist, but also to the average homemaker who may be arranging flowers she has grown in her own garden or purchased from the hot-house nursery."

far superior to that of the big-city artist," he said.

Bouquets, corsages, conversation pieces, table decorations and funeral pieces were designed by the four artists and their helpers as they worked on the stage of the Opera House. The finished products were discussed by MacFarland and then passed through the audience. Later they were exhibited in the lodge lobby.

"She should not be concerned with rules and regulations, but use her own imagination. Her own personality should show through. Flowers were meant to bring pleasure to all of us," MacFarland continued, "Today the smallest community is not limited to local materials. With air transportation service what it is, tropical and other flowers from far-away places are available to every florist in a matter of only a few hours."

"It is no longer easy to determine who is the small-town florist and who is from the big city. I meet so many fine artists and so many times their work is

Registration Sites Listed At Richfield

RICHFIELD—Richfield residents can register at the Lemmon Hardware Store for the Nov. 2 Village trustee election.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon were named as registrar and deputy registrar, respectively, by the village board.

Voting will be held between noon and 8 p.m. at the 1001 hall. Persons over 21 and residents of three months or longer must register unless they voted in either of the last two elections.

Mrs. Ross Swainston, Mrs. Lyle Piper and Mrs. Richard Schiller were named to the election board with Mrs. Udell Robinson and Mrs. James R. Brown as alternates.

Terms of three trustees expire. They are Mont Johnson, present board chairman; Lyle Piper and Edward Schiller. Terms are for four years each. Nominations are made by petitions signed by five qualified voters. No nominations have been filed to date.

Complaints of congested parking on Main Street adjacent to blocks 27 and 38 were received at the trustee meeting this week. Residents will be requested to cooperate in preventing their vehicles from interfering with the vision of drivers approaching Main Street.

The alley in block 27 was ordered posted with no parking signs.

Bartenders license permits were issued to Carl Piper and Daryl Hunter, Fourth ward, and beer licenses were issued to Piper, Fifth ward, and to Mrs. Helen Peterson, Sixth ward.

Misuse of dump grounds which causes greater expense was discussed as well as forming a library district with the support of all local organizations. Chairman Johnson recommended purchase of a local building on Main Street to the library board.

LIMITS OF DUCKS are eyed by Drs. Richard F. Molers and Wayne E. Blickenstaff, Boise dentist, who say that early season hunting generally is good because of large numbers of ducks and geese hatched and raised in Idaho every summer. Local brood censuses run in selected areas of southern Idaho this year indicate that local production was excellent. Goose nesting surveys made annually at Island Park, Blackfoot Reservoir, Mud Lake in Jefferson County, and along the lower Snake and Payette rivers showed above average production this year in the resident flocks, and average production in the largely migratory flocks.

Resident Waterfowl Normally Provide Biggest Part of Early-Season Bag

BY W. H. HUMPHREY
Idaho Fish-Game Department
BOISE — The coming and going of migratory waterfowl probably is the most fascinating of all natural phenomena observed by sportsmen during the course of a year in the outdoors. Even the "resident" mallards and pintails that come from the ocean to the saltwater headwaters where they were spawned three, four, or five years earlier lack the spectacular, thrilling quality of a great surge of northern mallards coming in on the wings of a storm.

Many of the dark mysteries surrounding the migrations of geese and ducks are being solved through banding and other studies. But there still is more to learn, for better or worse. Bizarre, at least, fancy that it will be a sorry day indeed if everything about these twice-a-year migrations become generally known and reduced from the marvelous to the mundane.

No matter how much is learned, however, it is a safe bet that mankind always will lift faces to the skies and thrill to the sights and sounds of migrating waterfowl, and will continue writing songs about wanting to go where the wild geese go.

Headline writers, always alert for unusual story angles, are quick to note that pintail ducks banded in eastern Idaho have been shot in Siberia, and that large numbers of snow geese have definite flight patterns to that part of Soviet Russia.

However, Idaho hunters mostly want to know when the "northern" will reach their part of the state. The simple answer, based on past experience, is about the third week in November, depending on when weather begins pushing them south out of Canada. This, of course, is the time of year when the peak of the fall duck migration arrives in Idaho.

Snow geese hunters believe that "northern" are different enough from resident ducks of the same species to be sorted at a glance. It is true that these migrants are raised in the northland, as a tern suggests. They have a longer period of time to mature than ducks raised in southern Idaho.

This means they must grow larger, get into the air sooner as the ducks, and may even be older than resident ducks at the time of their mass migration. But there is no way to be sure that a duck banded in November on the Snake River came from Canada or was hatched and raised within a few miles of the spot where the hunter stands.

Duck brood censuses run in selected areas of southern Idaho this year indicated that local production of ducks was excellent, according to Bizzini, state

Lincoln Girl Will Study In Austria

SHOSHONI — College-Alden daughter of Mrs. Velma Allen, will attend the second semester of school, next spring, in Austria.

She will be among 75 students from Brigham Young University who will be going there for the schooling. All of the time there will be spent in study and travel.

They will visit 12 European countries during the stay and will have an opportunity to attend the University if they master the German language. One year of German is required before a student is accepted for the course abroad.

These are all students enrolled in the humanities and places to be visited will include fine arts centers of Europe. They will live in dormitories.

The group will leave Jan. 1, 1966.

A choir is being selected from the 75 students and after extensive practice at BYU this fall, they will be prepared to tour Europe presenting concerts.

Three of which may be mallards or pintails.

Only a portion of these mallards and pintails migrating through southeastern Idaho spend the winter months in the Columbia Basin Mallard Area of southcentral and southwestern Idaho because their flight routes are different. Thus, this area is affected by the general national restriction in the mallard regulations this fall.

A notable restriction this season is that only two of the canvasback species may be included in the bag. There is no special restriction on redhead ducks this year.

Soon the cattails will be full of hunters with plastic quack tubes and the dip they set up will be heard by every duck in the country. In the hands of the inept quacker, at least, these devices will save a lot of ducks. Those that come in will be bent on suicide. Or dead. But that's hunting, and, at worst, good conservation!

T.F. Schools To Observe Lunch Week

President Lyndon B. Johnson has set aside the week of Oct. 10-15 as National School Lunch Week to recognize the value and achievements of the school lunch program.

Bertha Glick, lunch supervisor, and Bernice Holladay, lunch secretary, report that the Twin Falls school lunch program keeps up with the standards set up by the Department of Agriculture of having at least one-third to one-half of daily nutritional needs.

They also reported that 3,300 students per day were fed by the Twin Falls lunch program in the month of September, with the number increasing as the weather becomes less inviting.

The lunch program is self-supporting. It pays for all food, milk, equipment, maintenance of equipment and the salaries of all personnel employed by this program.

Parents are invited to eat at any school at any time for the price of 40 cents. All parents should feel free to visit the store-room and office in the School Administration Building, 201 Main Ave. W.

Quick! Quick! -- Beguiling Call of Quack

WASHINGTON (AP) — "If he can stop the pain for a day, that is all we want: More my father, not your father. This is part of a drama that fills a stage as large as the world."

For wherever there is pain and death and ugliness, wherever men resist age and weakness and disease, there is a piper to lure them with promises.

"His call is beguiling and almost irresistible. He promises quick relief from pain, quick recovery from illness, quick health. Quick, quick, quick. Everything happens easily and magically."

The sound of the quack is heard in the land and the gullible and hopeful and hopeless open their pockets to produce a mighty flood of dollars. How much each year?

An educated, conservative guess: $1 billion.

"Who is the quack? What happens to those he treats? What is being done to protect the public?"

The American Cancer Society makes a multipoint check list on "recognizing the quack." The main points are:

"1—His treatment is usually secret, as is the method and he is the only one who has it."

"2—He promotes through advertisements and testimonials, not through reports in current, reputable, scientific journals."

"3—He often uses the name of a high-sounding research organization or foundation."

"4—He discourages or refuses consultation with reputable physicians; claims the 'medical trust' (which basically means the AMA or a governmental agency such as the Food and Drug Administration) is against him."

"5—His testimonials often come from people who never had the disease, or from those who experience remissions (a temporary halt in the symptoms of a disease, during which people are convinced they have been cured)."

Medical quackery doesn't start or end with a man or a device.

It begins with a person who needs something.

That person can be an arthritis, a cancer victim, a child with cerebral palsy, an octogenarian with a stroke, or anyone afflicted with any chronic disorder.

Arthritis are among the most exploited by what the medical profession considers quacks. They are constantly in quest of something to relieve pain or correct joint damage or ease the disease, or from those "that nagging back."

Cancer victims are terrified by their disease and envision the ghost of death standing with his scythe behind their shoulder.

In 1950, Elsie Perkins came forth with "metallic tractors" capable, he said, of curing cancer and many other ills befailing man.

The father of our country commended a Mrs. Johnson for curing cancer.

No one can estimate the number of lives lost because of time consumed in the hands of a quack or in the practice of self-medication or in the failure to have proper diagnosis and treatment. A study of 64 quack-treated cancer cases referred to Duke University Medical School showed that 27 who died might have been saved; 10 others who were saved underwent much more severe and radical treatment than would have been needed.

The roles of professional medical societies, state boards and federal agencies are limited in the fight against quackery.

The American Medical Association has no punitive way of stopping a man who is promoting some fake cure-all. First of all, the man may not belong to the 200,000-member association.

If he does, the national group follows a rule of "original jurisdiction," which means that the quack has to be dealt with by the medical society in the community in which he practices. When it comes down to finger-pointing and instituting actual cases, doctors traditionally exhibit a do-nothing or leave-me-out symptom in which they appear incapable of testifying harshly about their brethren.

State licensing boards find it extremely difficult to revoke the license of a doctor because it is difficult to get doctors to testify that one of their number is an out-and-out crackpot.

The Food and Drug Administration is a watchdog agency, but not over the medical profession. It shows its muscles when there are violations of the federal law, that is, patent medicines. It has leading claims in the labeling and advertising of foods, drugs and cosmetics.

The Federal Trade Commission's jurisdiction in the medical field includes the prevention of false and misleading advertisement.

The Post Office Department has a role because of possible improper use of the mails. Its responsibility is to see that no one uses the mails in perpetration of a fraud.

The dilemma for the public and the medical profession is in considering at what point orthodoxy stands in the way of imaginative and progressive research.

"There are people in the field of research who are involved in some far-out projects and I would hate to see them stymied or ridiculed," says a research scientist in New York's famous Bellevue.

Small Business Aide to Speak

HAILEY — Federal aids to strengthen America's small businesses will be the discussion topic at the Monday meeting of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce, according to Leo Stavros, president.

Discussing "Management, Money, Markets and Men" will be Vic Goertzen, management assistance representative of the Boise Regional offices of the SBA.

He will explain three principal service areas of the federal agency, financial assistance, help in doing business with the government and management aids in counseling. Following the formal meeting Goertzen will be available for individual and group discussions, Stavros said.

The noon luncheon will be held at the Star cafe and will be an open meeting to which all businessmen of the Wood River valley are invited.

Westinghouse Jet Set

It doesn't stare back at you when it's off.

ON A new kind of TV picture—sharper, clearer, easier to watch. The new Westinghouse Jet Set gives you a picture of photographic clarity even in a brightly lit room. The completely new transistorized circuitry means longer life, greater reliability and superior weak-area reception. The picture tube disappears from view and all you see is a handsome black panel. No big ugly eye to stare back at you. And there's Instant-On™ TV (other sets take about 25 seconds to warm up); a fold-away carrying handle; and memory fine tuning. That means once you set a channel for the best picture and sound, you'll receive that tuning automatically every time you turn to that channel.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . .

Jack Rutter, Hailey Contractor,
Has Built Many Buildings in Valley

HAILEY—In the early 1900's there was a construction boom in the Wood River valley. The price of silver was down, a local bank had gone broke, there was no small business administration and no loaning companies from which to borrow money and most people just didn't have the ready cash to build.

One building contractor who managed to keep busy during that time was Jack Rutter. He furnished materials, did the building and those he built for paid him back in monthly installments.

There is hardly a street in Hailey that does not have buildings he has either built or remodeled.

When praised for the role he played in helping people build homes and business houses, Rutter replied "Don't forget they were helping me, too. They kept me working."

How did it happen Rutter had the capital to buy materials to build? The story began back in July, 1888, when John M. Rutter was born at Redruth, Cornwall, England, the youngest of five children. His ancestors were pioneers in the days of William and Mary. His grandfather was born, lived and died in the same thatched roof house.

His father received 18 shillings ($1) a week on his job. In order that the four boys in the family might have an education his mother and sister took in washing.

When Rutter was 14 years old his father apprenticed him to a building contractor at Redruth, at a weekly pay of 30s (15 pence, or 1 shilling and a quarter).

"At the end of five years I was earning 60 cents a week for working 10 hours a day. Many of the jobs we worked on were as far as six or seven miles from Redruth and we had to walk home each night in pitch darkness."

Redruth is only 17 miles from Lands End where the waves from the Atlantic, the English Channel and St. George Channel—fighting for supremacy—lay their last against the rocky shore, have earned the name of the wickedest water in the world."

Rutter walked the 24 miles to witness this spectacle twice while a boy.

When Rutter was 19 years old his uncle John Thomas, who came to America and was foreman at the Hay Aug mine west of Hailey, wrote that muckers were making $2 a day and board.

Rutter and his brother, Joe, borrowed $100, bought stage tickets and started work, smiling from Liverpool for New York City. They landed in Hailey May 17, 1907, got a ride up Deer Creek gulch to the mouth of Panther canyon, and walked up the canyon to the mine.

Next day they started work, putting in double shifts. While working there Rutter constructed a Cornish jig which saved some of the ore going over the dump.

With his first savings he purchased two lots on the corner of 3rd Avenue and Elm Streets in Hailey, the site of his present home. He paid his first taxes in 1909.

After procuring his lots he put every extra penny he made into buying cement.

With the cement he made bricks to build his house. At the small cabin he and his brother had rented on River street, he worked in the evenings. He was then working for Jack Povey, a carpenter and owner of a building materials yard.

"I finally got enough made to build a three room house," he said. "I pushed every one of those bricks in a hand cart from the cabin, uphill all the way, to my lots five blocks away. The hand cart I borrowed from George Rodvold."

Rutter married Katherine Povey in 1911 and he and his bride moved into their new home.

"It didn't matter that there were only three rooms," he laughed. "It was ours."

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in a sheep wagon (The early day version of fo-day's trailer house) at the mouth of Kelley gulch eight miles west of Hailey. Here he helped build the Red Elephant mill for P. A. (Pat) Danaher.

The Guyer Hot Springs hotel and swimming pools up Warm Springs creek were built by Rutter. He and his wife also operated the resort located where the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brandt now stands, for Raymond Guyer.

The Ralco hotel, Liberty Theater, Harris Furniture store, Masonic Temple, present offices of the Idaho Power Co., present site of the Western Auto Co., which he built for J. C. Penney, under a 25 year lease all were built by Rutter.

He also built the Christiana club in Ketchum.

He laughs when describing building benches for the town movie theater.

"While we were delivering the benches the horses ran away and dumped the whole lot off the wagon and broke them up," he notes.

Among other buildings he erected in Hailey were the high school and the rodeo grounds bleacher. In 1929 he remodeled the Carey school house.

When many of the former booming mining camps at Deadwood, Idaho, became ghost towns, people moved the houses into Hailey. He remodeled many of these.

For West Coast Power Co. he built water systems at John Day and Burns, Ore., and Cascade. In Hailey he supervised the laying of a new pipe line by a pick and shovel crew.

Contracts for erecting a cheese factory at Gannett during the time a group of Swiss ranchers settled there; work at the Hay Spur fish hatchery, farm homes and large barns all came his way.

He smiled when talking of his experiences in building a complete mining camp at Deadwood, 51 miles from Cascade. He and his brother-in-law Fred Povey, together with a crew of six men, worked the greater part of four years, from 1924 to 1928, erecting a mill, blacksmith shop and other buildings necessary in a mining camp. They put in from 10 to 16 hours a day, seven days a week.

"While we were walking out to new Warm Springs ski runs on Bald Mountain, for the James Corp.

There is never a time the large benches in his workshop do not have something "in the making." He especially likes to do the most intricate finish work.

Rutter has delved into other fields of endeavor, but has always returned to building. He operated an 80 acre hup ranch where the present house of Rutter and George Flowers now stands at the mouth of Adams Gulch. He held a mortgage on what is now Glassford Heights, Eagle Creek Meadows and the ranch of J. S. Feldhusen which he sold for $750.

"That $750 was worth a lot to me at that time," he said.

Rutter is a 32nd degree Mason. He served on the Hailey city council for 10 years and was mayor for four. He was a member of the Blaine County Hospital board for several years.

The Rutter's have three children. Their eldest son, Verle, is a building contractor and is presently at Elko, Nev. Their youngest son, Milton, worked with his father until he retired and is now employed by James Corp. as a carpenter.

Their daughter, Mrs. Robert (Leta) Jackson, assists her husband in operating the local Western Store. Their grandson, Ralph Rutter, is following in his grandfather's footsteps. He is in his fourth year of architectural engineering at Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.

Their granddaughter, Vicki, is attending Hailey grade school. Rutter has never returned to his homeland. His sister, only living relative in England, visited him here several years ago.

Rutter's days are full. He keeps up the large yard and flower gardens around the house he and his bride moved into 51 years ago, spends time in his shop, which is just across the street, and visits with friends who come to ask him advice on building problems each day.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, Oct. 10—Born today, you are extremely versatile, and it is to be hoped you are responsible for your upbringing. You have instilled in you the self-discipline necessary for the limiting of your interests to the point where you will be able to choose a single road on which to travel toward a single goal. Otherwise, you may find yourself in the unpleasant role of Jack-of-all-trades, but master of none.

You may have particularly apt mind in combination with high imaginations, and might find your niche in the world of research or scientific experimentation. You women will most likely turn your talents and energies to fields requiring the full use of your creative instincts. To combine homemaking with a career would not be difficult for you.

Emotionally stable, you are not one to play the field for love, and an early marriage is indicated. Even so, you must take care not to hurry in haste, for it is extremely important that you know your prospective wife or husband well before making things permanent. You do not like surprises, and to be surprised by unpleasant aspects of your mate's character might bring unhappiness.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, Oct. 11
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Now is the time to take definite steps toward improving your income. Classes in adult education may be the answer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Exercise your imagination enough to come up with a new idea—but restrain it enough to make that idea a practical one.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Personal relationships may be more important to your future, than professional relationships today.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Let your full personality emerge and you can swing a decision in your favor. Action counts for more than words.

CANDIDATE FOR QUEEN
BURLIERY—Bonnie Allen will be one of 31 co-ed's competing for the title of queen for Utah State University's 1965 homecoming. Judging will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Nelson Fieldhouse.

"The Lucille Ball Show" (Color, 6:30 p.m. CBS)—Lucy's busy tracking down an escort to a fancy dress ball after she gets a couple of tickets to the affair.

"Hazel" (Color, 7:30 p.m. CBS)—Hazel busy trying to sell real estate in her spare time, finds a client—but he wants to buy his house.

"The Andy Williams Show" (9 p.m. NBC)—Andy puts on a Hawaiian luau for Bob Hope, Roger Miller and Mary Tyler Moore.

"Men of Our Time" (Special, 9 p.m. KUED)—Tonight's documentary, "Ghandi," attempts to put into perspective Ghandi's rise to power and his use of this power. The biography will be repeated next Sunday at 7 p.m.

BEST MONDAY NIGHT MOVIES
"With a Song in My Heart" (KSCB, 1952)—Susan Hayward and Rory Calhoun (10:30 p.m.)—A love-average biographical film about singer Jane Froman, who lost the use of her legs in a plane crash at the height of her career. Miss Froman dubs in many of her song hits over the acting of Miss Hayward.

"The Man Inside" (British, 1958) Jack Palance and Anita Ekberg (10:35 p.m. KCPX)—A valuable diamond is the subject of a search by a detective in this routine cops-and-robbers yarn.
